Smash Another Nazi Defence Line Near Novorossisk

Kill Nearly 1,000 Troops, Shoot Down 377 Planes in Two Days

LONDON, May 7 (CP).—A tremendous Soviet artillery and air barrage was reported tonight to have knocked out another German defence line before Novorossisk in the Caucasus as the Russians killed nearly 1,000 more Axis troops and shot down twenty-seven enemy planes in the drive to the Black Sea.

In addition a Moscow broadcast recorded by the Soviet monitor said Russian bombers attacking along the front had destroyed or damaged 350 German planes on Thursday at a cost of twenty-four Soviet aircraft.

Driving slowly through hilly terrain northeast of the Black Sea port of Novorossisk, Moscow dispatches said, the Red Army destroyed German-Rumanian military units and cut many of the invaders' land communications between Novorossisk and the Kuban River Valley in the Taman Peninsula to the north.

The midnight bulletin recorded by the Soviet monitor said a co-ordinated artillery and air bombardment today drove the Germans from another series of fortified positions. One Moscow broadcast said nine Axis counter-attacks were smashed and more important hilltops seized.

NINE GERMAN VESSELS SUNK

Another Moscow broadcast to the Red Fleet said three transports totalling 13,000 tons, one 3,000-ton tanker, three torpedo boats and two invasion barges had been sunk in

Japanese Bases Hit By Airmen

Explosions and Fires Follow Heavy Raids

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, May 8 (Saturday) (CP). — Allied bombers heavily raided Babo, Netherlands New Guinea, and Madang, New Guinea, yesterday, the High Command announced today.

Babo lies deep within the 100-mile long MacCluer Gulf of Netherlands New Guinea, approximately 700 miles north of Darwin.

Madang, on the north New Guinea coast, 350 miles northwest of the Allied base of Port Moresby, was twice raided, during which twenty-one tons of bombs were dropped.

In the Babo raid medium bombers attacked the airdrome, setting fires which could be seen for seventy miles. The raiders heavily strafed Japanese bomber and fighter planes caught in the dispersal area.

Fires were started at the radio station and barracks on the airdrome at Kupang, Netherlands Timor, in another raid northwest of Australia. Kupang is 500 miles northwest of Darwin.

The double strike against Madang was directed at airdrome supply dumps and ground installations.

The twenty-one tons included high explosives, fragmentation and incendiary bombs.

Smoke rose thousands of feet

Americans in New Air Base In Aleutians

Announce Amchitka Taken on January 12

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP). — United States troops have put into operation a new air base on Amchitka Island, only seventy miles southeast of Kiska, and Navy Secretary Frank Knox said today this advance into the Western Aleutians is a new blow in America's programme of "aggressive, offensive war."

Knox declined to be drawn into speculation as to the uses of the new base—including the possibility that it might be a take-off place for bombings against Tokio itself—but he said "the military situation up there in the Aleutians has certainly been improved."

Knox referred also to an American base on Adak Island, 212 nautical miles from Kiska, occupied by the United States last October.

The troops that occupied Amchitka took over the five-mile-wide island, only a few minutes' flying time from the Japanese base at Kiska, on January 12. The air base was put into operation February 16 after eight light bombing attacks by enemy planes. The Navy Department announced the landing today, simultaneously with an announcement of ten fresh attacks by American bombers on Japanese positions at Kiska and Attu.

TWO THOUSAND MILES FROM TOKIO

Besides being only twelve minutes' flying time from the Japanese base at Kiska, Amchitka is only 1927 nautical miles (2,219 statute miles) from Tokio. Thus it might be feasible for planes taking off there to bomb Japan and land in China. Even closer than Japan itself are the important enemy bases in the Kuriles.

Knox said that "an interpretation of these moves in the Alaskan areas is that they are part of the programme of advances of aggressive, offensive war."

The Associated Press correspondent, William L. Worden, said Amchitka's harbor was filled with warships and cargo carriers which had brought supplies sufficient for a formidable army.

Have Plan for Boeing Plant

Union Men Report Good Conference

OTTAWA, May 7 (CP).—Tom Price, business agent of Aeronautical Lodge 756, of the International Machinists of America (A.F.L.), said tonight that a delegation which today visited three Cabinet Ministers to discuss a Government order eliminating a ten-minute rest period at the Boeing aircraft plants at Vancouver had a plan "in mind" which they would submit to the union there for ratification.

Mr. Price gave no details of the plan, but said that if it were ratified by the union it would be submitted to the managements of the Boeing and Canadian Pacific Air Lines plants at Vancouver and New Westminster, B.C., and then turned over to the Munitions Department for approval.

"We feel confident," he said, "that the department will accept the plan. We have already notified the union that we received a good hearing from the ministers we saw today, and were given every opportunity to present our case."

Today's conference was attended by Munitions Minister Howe, Labor Minister Mitchell and Pensions Minister Mackenzie, who represents the constituency of Vancouver Centre.

CANADIANS HELP RAID

LONDON, May 7 (CP).—The Royal Canadian Air Force took part in sweeps over the Channel and Northern France today, the R.C.A.F. reported, following up a German raid on one coastal district of East Anglia in which bombs were dropped. During the morning R.C.A.F. Spitfires attacked and damaged an armed enemy vessel off the coast of Brittany. One Canadian plane was lost in the attack on the ship and one German raider was brought down in the East Anglia raid.

Aboard Britain's New Aircraft Carrier

The Indomitable is Britain's newest and biggest aircraft carrier—a prime addition to the fighting strength of the United Nations' sea power. This photograph was made aboard her while on operational cruise. Captain G. Grantham, skipper of the carrier, chats with three of the men who fly the "Seafires," the Royal Navy's equivalent of the Spitfires.

BULLETINS

NOT IMPORTANT, ANYWAY

NEW YORK, May 7 (AP). — Shortly before the Allied announcement tonight of the capture of Bizerte and Tunis, the German propaganda agency, D.N.B., claimed in dispatches from occupied Europe that Axis resistance was "unshaken" and that, anyway, those strategic ports were really not important. D.N.B. asserted the losses inflicted on the Allies would be a "burden" to them in the future.

STALIN RECEIVES KERR

LONDON, May 8 (Saturday) (CP).—Premier Joseph Stalin received the British ambassador to Moscow, Sir Archibald Clark Kerr, for an interview on Wednesday attended by Foreign Commissar Molotov, Moscow announced early today in a broadcast recorded by the Soviet monitor.

ALERT IN LONDON

LONDON, May 8 (Saturday) (CP). — An air raid alert was sounded in London early today. No gunfire was heard immediately in the downtown area, but anti-aircraft batteries in the outlying districts went into action soon after the alert was sounded. The alert sounded as Londoners were listening to an early morning broadcast by the B.B.C. describing the Allied capture of Tunis and Bizerte. The all clear signal was given a little more than an hour after the original alarm.

WIPE OUT BATTALION

LONDON, May 8 (Saturday) (AP).—A battalion of German infantry and eighty-seven gun positions were wiped out by Soviet artillery in the night's fighting northeast of Novorossisk as the Red Army continued its assault on the approaches to the Black Sea port, the Soviet noon communique said today.

Canadians in Inspection by Her Majesty

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, May 7 (CP)—Two crack Canadian Highland regiments, the Black Watch, of Montreal, and the Toronto Scottish, paraded before the Queen today.

Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, commander of the Canadian Army overseas, Lt.-Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, corps commander, and Maj.-Gen. P. J. Montague, senior officer at Canadian military headquarters, were among the senior officers present.

Six members of the Canadian Women's Army Corps attended the Queen on her inspection.

They included Pte. Helen Barnhart, of Regina, who was on duty when Her Majesty took tea with officers of the Toronto Scottish.

Cpl. Ann Crapleve, of Winnipeg, and Pte. Ruth William, of Lethbridge, Alta., attended the Queen during her stay at corps headquarters.

FOR FINAL TALK

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP). — Soviet Ambassador Maxim Litvinoff called on State Secretary Cordell Hull today for a final talk before going to Moscow to report to his Government. The ambassador told newsmen he did not yet know the precise date of his departure, but expected it would be soon.

Coal Miners Go on Strike

Walk-Out of 1,500 In Pennsylvania

PITTSBURGH, May 7 (AP).—In the first coal mine work stoppage since the United States Government took over the mines Saturday, the 1,400 employees of the largest captive mine of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation went on strike late today.

The walkout occurred not long after President Roosevelt implied at his Washington press conference that miners now are not free to strike, since they are employees of the Government.

About the same time John P. Busarello, president of United Mine Workers, District 5, announced there would be no work in the mines of his district after midnight, May 18, unless a contract has been signed.

District 5 includes about 38,000 of Western Pennsylvania's 117,000 soft coal miners.

The Jones & Laughlin miners struck in protest against efforts of the corporation to levy a $5 fine against participants in last week's walkout.

Polish Consul Denies Russian Spy Accusation

LONDON, May 7 (CP).—Count Edward Raczynski, Polish Ambassador to London, categorically denied today the Soviet charges against the Polish troops and embassy, and expressed doubt that they would "help produce the desired harmony."

Allegations concerning Polish officials engaging in espionage for Germany are "so fantastic that I have no intention of answering," he said.

Diplomatic circles viewed Vishinski's statement with dismay, and said they now are convinced there was little or no hope of an early reconciliation between the two governments.

SINK GERMAN DESTROYER

STOCKHOLM, May 7 (AP). — A German destroyer and the 9,000-ton Norwegian steamship Hoegh Carrier of Oslo were sunk by British bombs April 18 off Hilder, reports from Norway said today. The Hoegh Carrier was travelling in a convoy from Rotterdam.

Faster Clean-Up Sooner Invasion

LONDON, May 8 (Saturday) (CP).—News of the fall of Tunis and Bizerte to Allied African forces swept swiftly through London early today despite the hour, and the chief reaction was:

"The faster the clean-up, the sooner the European invasion."

The Press Association said the fall of Bizerte raised the immediate question, "What has happened to Axis forces there?"

"No fate other than that of being taken prisoner or being killed seems possible," the agency commented, "as any exit by sea or air as well as land would seem to be out of the question.

"With Tunis it is another story because if the garrison has not been taken prisoner it might have evacuated the town earlier and escaped into the Cap Bon Peninsula."

Losses Tragic, States Hitler

Deaths of Party Members Numerous

NEW YORK, May 7 (AP).—Hitler, speaking at a funeral service today for Viktor Lutze, Storm Troop chief of staff, who was fatally injured May 3, in a motor car accident near Potsdam, said that the National Socialist party's losses were particularly heavy in a war that had claimed many sacrifices of men, women and even children.

"It is particularly tragic for me to experience how almost every year one or other fighter or co-operator is becoming one of those who, according to the author of the National Socialist revolutionary song, are marching with us in spirit," he said in the speech broadcast to Germany. An account of the speech was recorded by The Associated Press from a Berlin broadcast.

"We have achieved what he fought for—a Reich made secure against its enemies by its own strength and upheld by its own people," Hitler said.

B.C. LOAN RENEWED

OTTAWA, May 7 (CP).—A loan of $1,850,000 from the Federal Government to British Columbia which matures May 29 has been renewed for another year under an order in council tabled in the House of Commons today by Finance Minister Ilsley. The loan is secured by a British Columbia treasury bill bearing interest at 3 per cent.

The First Step Counts

THE Chinese, who had an advanced civilization 5,000 years ago, say that a journey of 1,000 miles begins with a single step. Savings is like that. It is the first step that counts, the decision to save. Once entered upon, saving becomes a habit. It's name is thrift. It is not earning but thrift that makes individuals independent. Wise men know that. Others have learned it only at the expense of a lifetime. But many individuals, regarding the length of the journey, refrain from taking the first step. That is a mistake. The Chinese have it right. It is open to everyone to take the first step. A Victory bond will do that. The bond habit, thus begun, will set many an individual on the road to independence. But a Victory bond will do more: It will fight for Canada where the fighting is—today—now. Who's for a bond? Who will take the first step, and make thrift their life habit?

Triumphant Allied Troops Strike With Overwhelming Force by Land and by Air

Alexander's Promise to Push Enemy Into Sea Is Made Good

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, May 7 (AP). — Tunis and Bizerte were captured in mid-afternoon today by triumphant Allied troops striking in overwhelming force by land and by air.

The naval base in the north fell to United States troops at 4:15 p.m. (9:15 a.m., P.D.T.) and the capital was conquered five minutes later by British First Army troops in the blazing co-ordinated drives climaxing two days of fierce battle.

Roads from both cities were choked tonight with German and Italian troops and tanks and trucks fleeing to the coastal hills below Bizerte and to Cap Bon peninsula.

Allied planes pounded and slashed relentlessly at the retreating columns.

Rearguard troops still were fighting in the capital but fierce struggles on the outskirts of cities failed to halt the Allied drive to destroy the Axis in Africa.

The fall of Tunisia's chief cities after a shattering two-day offensive came as a climax to the El Alamein drive launched by General Sir Bernard Montgomery's Eighth army last October 23, 1,400 miles to the east.

The capture of the Tunisian capital and the big Mediterranean seaport and naval base was announced by Allied headquarters late tonight.

GREATEST LAND AND AIR OFFENSIVE YET

The British First Army vanguard smashed its way fourteen miles to wrest Tunis from its Axis defenders who reeled back under the greatest combined land and air offensive Africa has seen, and American troops drove into Bizerte after advancing nine miles during the day.

Thus collapsed the Axis defence throughout North Tunisia except for strong elements still entrenched in the hills between the Plain of Tunis and Enfidaville in positions already pounded by the British Eighth Army.

At 9 p.m. headquarters announced that fighting still was continuing inside both cities, but the remaining resistance was expected to be wiped out soon.

This last-ditch defence apparently was designed to give the fleeing bulk of the enemy a chance to escape to the hills of the Cap Bon peninsula in the northeast.

LARGE NUMBERS OF PRISONERS TAKEN

Large numbers of prisoners were taken in both cities and in the fighting outside.

General Henri Giraud immediately named General Charles Mast as Resident General of France in Tunisia.

The Americans of the Second Corps encountered strong opposi-

Changes in Plants to Be Drastic

Many in Canada to Be Temporarily Jobless

WASHINGTON, May 7 (CP)—A general reshuffle of the industrial side of Canada's war effort, featuring a shift in emphasis but no diminution in total effort, seemed in prospect here today as Canadian, American and British supply officials started to plan 1944 production programmes.

Canada may be forced to make drastic changes in the next two or three months, switching factories to new production, stopping the production of some war materials, particularly certain ground equipment and, generally, reshuffling her whole industrial machine built up since the start of the war.

There seems to be no doubt that a programme of this sort means temporary unemployment for thousands of Canadians this Summer and Fall, during the transition period, until the factories are retooled and the new production programme really gets started.

ACCOMPLISHED MIRACLE OF OUTPUT

The central fact is this: Canadian industry has accomplished a miracle of production in the last two or three years, so much so that vast reserves of some wartime supplies have been built up, sufficient to take care of requirements for months to come. The requirements of the Canadian Army and the British Army, in a wide range of supplies, have been met and the seven years' start of the Germans in wartime industry has been surmounted.

Under the new programme, as much as ever will be required—but it will be in other lines. Instead of guns and shells, it may be ships, naval and cargo-carrying. The full resources of Canada, labor as well as material, still will be required for the job.

The wastage of battle and ordinary obsolescence has not kept pace with factory production so that today there are reserves of some army supplies, sufficient, in the eyes of military leaders, to last for a considerable time.

CHANGES EXPECTED IN COMING MONTHS

OTTAWA, May 7 (CP).—Changes in Canada's industrial output, to meet the changing needs of the United Nations, are expected to take place during the months to come.

Already some plants are in the process of switching to new products

Earl Applauds Kaiser's Work

PORTLAND, Ore., May 7 (AP).—A twenty-one gun salute greeted the Earl of Athlone and Princess Alice today at the Vancouver, Wash., army barracks.

The Governor General of Canada reviewed troops there, then inspected the northern permanent hospital for workers at Henry J. Kaiser's Vancouver shipyard, talking with several patients.

A reception sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce followed.

Earlier in the day Princess Alice christened the tanker Fort Dearborn at Kaiser's Swan Island shipyard.

During the launching ceremonies for the Fort Dearborn His Excellency praised Kaiser, his staff and workers.

"When I return to Canada, the first question I will be asked," he said, "is, what do you think of Kaiser? I can do nothing but tell of the remarkable things this great shipbuilder has done on the coast."

Committee Votes For Ruml Plan

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP).—In a victory for Ruml Plan supporters, the Senate Finance Committee voted 13 to 6 today to adopt the principle of abating a full year's tax in installing pay-as-you-go revenue collection.

The committee voted to lay aside the House-approved current collection bill and use the "skip-a-year" plan as a basis for legislation expected to parallel closely the Ruml-Carlson Bill rejected by four votes in the House of Representatives.

B.C.-Yukon's Bond Sales at 73 Per Cent

VANCOUVER, May 7 (CP).—Fourth Victory Loan subscriptions in the British Columbia-Yukon area Friday totalled $80,109,850, or 73 per cent of the quota of $110,000,000. Applications from the general public today totalled $25,175,500.

In unit standings, North Vancouver jumped from twenty-eighth to third place to record 73 per cent. Dawson-Mayo leads all units with 185 per cent, and West Vancouver is second with 79 per cent.

Vancouver Suburban jumped from last place on the divisional list to second position with 61 per cent of its quota. Vancouver City leads in this category with 62 per cent.

Declares Norway Is Dying Slowly

STOCKHOLM, May 7 (CP).—Calo Hambro, thirty-one, who escaped two weeks ago from Norway, said today the "country is being suffocated politically and mentally and is dying slowly" under Nazi oppression led by Vidkun Quisling.

He is the son of Carl Joachim Hambro, former President of the Norwegian Parliament and of the Assembly of the League of Nations.

"The people now live from day to day on hope," Hambro said in an interview shortly before flying to Britain. "If the Allies fail to take offensive action against Axis Europe this Summer I doubt whether the people can stand to continue passive resistance another Winter."

SWEDISH SHIPS LEASED

STOCKHOLM, May 7 (AP).—Foreign Minister Christian Guenther in a speech at Eskilstuna today said 600,000 tons of Swedish merchant ships have been leased to Britain, but less than one-third of that tonnage still was afloat. He added that the lease agreement stipulated the Swedish ships were not to be used for transporting troops or war material.

Busy Week for Canadian Flyers

OTTAWA, May 7 (CP).—Flying long-range Mosquito planes, a Canadian fighter squadron struck at railway and transport targets in Northern Holland and Northwest Germany last week, the R.C.A.F. weekly communique said today.

The Mosquito raid was one of many operations carried out by Canadian airmen in the week ended at noon yesterday.

From all operations eight bombers and one Coastal Command aircraft are reported missing. The score reported against the enemy is two fighters destroyed over Northern France by Spitfire squadrons on sweeps.

Canadian Halifax squadrons participated in a heavy bombing raid on the Ruhr, including Essen, last Friday.

Tuesday night both Halifax and Wellington squadrons were back in the Ruhr area dropping bombs on Dortmund. The bomb delivery over the target was not far short of the largest tonnage dropped on a German target in a single raid, said the communique.

SENATE ADJOURNS

OTTAWA, May 7 (CP).—The Senate today gave third reading to, and passed, bills amending the Income Tax Act and the Excess Profits Tax Act in accordance with provisions of the 1942-44 budget. Second reading was given to fifteen divorce bills. The Senate adjourned at the conclusion of today's session to May 12.

Will Set Up Committee of Twenty-Three on Broadcasts

House Debates Three Hours on Proposal Before Measure Adopted—Some Speakers Are Critical

OTTAWA, May 7 (CP)—Establishment beyond question of the legal status of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation was one of numerous suggestions made in the House of Commons today before members adopted a motion to set up a select, twenty-three member committee on radio broadcasting.

For nearly three hours the House debated the motion of War Services Minister LaFleche to set up the select committee.

It was carried shortly after 6 o'clock when the House adjourned until Monday. The debate did not bring any opposition to the motion, but gave members an opportunity to discuss the report of last year's committee.

Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House leader, said the C.B.C. had been variously described as an independent corporation and as an arm of the Government.

He said any suggestion that the corporation could be swayed by political influence should be ended by action of the proposed committee.

When information on the corporation was sought in Parliament, the Government described it as an independent corporation, he said. "But when it was to be taxed or when its workers wanted to organize for collective bargaining it suddenly became an arm of the Government."

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, advanced the same argument.

SHOULD HAVE BEEN ASKED TO RESIGN

Mr. Graydon declared that in his opinion the C.B.C. board of governors, which was censured in last year's report, should have been asked to resign so that there could be complete reorganization.

Mr. Coldwell said the report of last year's commission had completely vindicated the late Allan Plaunt, of Ottawa, who resigned as a member of the board of governors as a protest against the failure of the board to act on certain recommendations for betterment.

Gen. LaFleche said that he could assure the House there was no political interference with the C.B.C.

Mr. Coldwell said he would seek, when the committee meets, to ascertain why the number of private station licences held by one licencee are allowed to increase in violation of the recommendations of last year's committee. Some of these were making a great deal of money, he suggested.

They were able to "throw good parties," have commodious offices and on one occasion, he said, when a new station was opened in Peterborough, Ont., there was a special train carrying the guests to the opening party and it was "fully equipped with all the necessities for a jolly party."

ATTEMPT TO FORM SECOND NETWORK

An attempt was being made to establish a private network in Canada. If a second network were necessary it should be under the national radio authority.

Dr. J. J. McCann (Liberal, Renfrew South), chairman of the radio committee last year, said he did not wonder at criticism of the C.B.C. But it should not all be criticism in light of achievements of the last four years in particular. Coverage and programmes had increased. Good news services were provided through co-operation of The Canadian Press and the British United Press. Credit had to be given C.B.C. personnel for the accomplishments achieved.

Dr. J. S. Thomson, the new temporary general manager, was filling the post with distinction, said Dr. McCann.

If the C.B.C. were to be continued as a nationally owned organization it must be ensured that private stations do not become so strong they threaten the national system, said Dr. McCann.

Rev. E. G. Hansell (New Democracy, MacLeod) said "considerable revamping" of the C.B.C. organization still was required. He suggested the establishment of a separate radio commission, like the Transport Commission, to control all broadcasting in Canada.

SPEAKS AGAINST GOVERNMENT MONOPOLY

A Government radio monopoly meant a monopoly of propaganda, said Mr. Hansell. The people should have free access to the instruments of propaganda, and they should be allowed to judge for themselves.

D. G. Ross (Progressive Conservative, Toronto) said he wondered why Dr. Thomson took it on himself to "sneer" at a man prominent in public life.

Mr. Ross read an extract of a speech by Dr. Thomson in which he had referred to the "swan song" of a Canadian statesman.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, former national Conservative leader, spoke of the C.B.C. when he addressed the Winnipeg national convention, at which he left the leadership.

"We come to the position our leader is refused the air but a commentator makes a speech and says that for years Great Britain was in the position of exploiter and oppressor of India and Canada should show Britain the right way to deal with India," said Mr. Ross.

Bizerte, Tunis Fall

tion in their push to Bizerte, but after taking Ferryville at 1 p.m. today their columns converged upon the naval base in a tremendous drive by armor and infantry.

In the final battle before Tunis, British armor and infantry smashed the positions which the Germans had hastily erected. The Germans fought fiercely there.

Just before the break into Tunis itself the First Army took Le Bardo, home of the Bey of Tunis, but it has not yet been determined whether the Bey was there or was taken to Europe by the Germans who had elevated him to "king of Tunisia."

Allied air forces were again complete masters of the skies today. The Axis air force was almost non-existent.

BOMBS DUMPED ON FLEEING TROOPS

British and American airmen pounded thousands of bombs upon the retreating enemy, smashing explosives along the congested roads of retreat full of men and trucks and tanks, with vehicles often bumper to bumper.

Crack German troops were among the units that fell back before the Allied onslaught.

Airmen who struck at shipping in the Straits of Sicily saw a number of ships carrying Axis troops across to Sicily, indicating that a partial evacuation was being attempted, but it was on a small scale.

A large percentage of the ships were being sunk. It now seems most probable that the Axis cannot attempt a large-scale evacuation.

With their smashing victories the Allied troops had fulfilled the promise of General Sir Harold Alexander, Commander-in-Chief of all ground forces under General Dwight D. Eisenhower, that they would "drive the enemy into the sea."

To French troops, who fought valiantly in the drive upon Bizerte, and in battle to the south, General Henri Giraud addressed an order of the day declaring that "on Joan of Arc Day—May 8—Tunis has been liberated, Bizerte has been set free."

GENERAL MAST A DE GAULLIST

General Mast, whom Giraud named Resident General of Tunisia, is a De Gaullist, and his appointment therefore is considered a move towards conciliation of French political elements. He now is in Beirut, Lebanon, recovering from injuries suffered in an accident, and General Alphonse Juin, commander of French troops in the field, will assume his duties temporarily.

The final lap of this campaign in the north—now well into its third week—became a race between the First Army for Tunis and the Americans to Bizerte in a highly co-ordinated plan in which the two displayed great teamwork. The Eighth Army and the French, meanwhile, pressed on the enemy in the south.

The savage air assault prepared the way all along for the Allied advances, taking fearful toll of enemy arms and men.

"Because of complete air domination, the tactical air force was able to throw practically the whole of its weight against enemy armor and German defences in front of Tunis, enabling our own troops to advance and capture all their objectives with a minimum of casualties," an air force statement said.

Many of the captured German troops were shaken from unprecedented aerial pounding. Great numbers of fragmentation bombs as well as heavier calibre explosives were particularly demoralizing, they told their captors.

CONINGHAM WATCHES FROM HIGH PEAK

Air Marshal Sir Arthur Coningham, commander of Allied air forces in Tunisia, and his aides stood on one of the highest peaks in the battle area yesterday watching the devastating results of their weeks of careful planning and training.

Besides this blanketing support of ground troops, Allied airmen were busy over the Mediterranean, and were reported to have sunk a dozen vessels, including a destroyer, and to have damaged fifteen more. It was not determined whether they were carrying troops in an attempt at a Dunkerque-style evacuation.

The Allied ground advances came so swiftly that the Axis commanders had little time to regroup their battered forces for the defences of Tunis and Bizerte.

The Americans swarmed into Ferryville, power station for Bizerte, only eight miles south of the naval base, at 1 p.m. Reconnaissance units smashed forward and sped to the Bizerte outskirts, and more troops and armor raced up to pound into the naval base city by nightfall.

The First Army meanwhile thrust armored fingers into Le Bardo junction on the Bizerte-Tunis and Tunis-Djedeida highways, and without halt pounded on toward Tunis.

SPECTACULAR DRIVE BY BRITISH ARMY

The First Army's spectacular drive on Tunis began at daylight yesterday. As Allied bombers blasted a path four miles long and 1,000 yards wide, the British forces charged with a rush.

First the infantry cleared high ground and wiped out anti-tank positions, and then the tanks smashed into the van. The Germans threw sixty tanks into a desperate effort to halt the flow of men and machines, but they were routed and several tanks were destroyed. From there on the First Army pounded across the plain to Tunis itself.

American detachments on the British left flank attacked the highlands guarding Chouigui, twenty-one miles west of Tunis, and before noon yesterday reached their objective. Their captives included some German elite troops, who, despite their experience and iron discipline, cracked under the furious bombing, shelling and tank and infantry assaults.

St. Cyprien, a rallying point for the enemy's mobile reserves, ten miles west of Tunis, was smashed by more than 100 Allied bombers in a concentrated ten-minute attack in the afternoon. British tanks on the southern flanks sailed into an isolated German unit of twelve to fourteen tanks and knocked out five of them for a loss of a single tank.

OTHER UNITS CROSS RIVER

North of the Chouigui sector other American units crossed the River Tine and attacked a ridge on the east bank under heavy enemy fire. Still farther north, tank-supported detachments mopped up the last Axis resistance on Djebel Achkel, on the south shore of Lake Achkel. Six enemy heavy anti-tank guns were wiped out with their crews.

French troops in the Port du Fahs area were reported continuing their advance toward Zaghouan. The British Eighth Army, placed in the Enfidaville sector, played no prominent part in the present offensive. It reported an advance at one inland point nine miles northeast of Djebebina, about midway between that village and Zaghouan.

Yesterday's great Allied air offensive saw twenty Axis planes shot down over their own fields in Tunisia, while ten Allied craft were reported missing. Among the twenty-seven enemy vessels hit in the Mediterranean, of which twelve were definitely sunk, were counted a destroyer, seven motor barges and four small boats loaded with men, all sunk.

A dispatch from Cairo said a force of more than fifty big bombers attacked moles and harbor installations at Reggio de Calabria in Italy, scoring direct hits on at least two large merchant ships. Malta-based bombers set fires in Marsala, Sicily.

Three More Assistants Are Named

OTTAWA, May 7 (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King today announced in the House of Commons the appointment of three additional Parliamentary assistants to ministers.

They are:

For Prime Minister Mackenzie King in his capacity as President of the Privy Council—Brooke Claxton, forty-four, Montreal barrister, a veteran of the first Great War and member for St. Lawrence-St. George since 1940.

For Justice Minister St. Laurent—Joseph Jean, fifty-three, Montreal, a barrister and member for Mercier since 1932.

For Labor Minister Mitchell—Paul Joseph James Martin, thirty-nine, Windsor, Ont., a barrister and member for Essex East since 1935.

FOUR ASSISTANTS PREVIOUSLY NAMED

Four Parliamentary assistants previously named were:

For Finance Minister Ilsley—Douglas Charles Abbott, forty-four, Montreal, a barrister and veteran of the first Great War, member for St. Antoine-Westmount since 1940.

For Defence Minister Ralston—William Chisholm Macdonald, fifty-three, Halifax, a barrister and veteran of the first Great War, member for Halifax since 1940.

For Air Minister Power—Dr. Cyrus MacMillan, sixty-one, Montreal, McGill University professor and a veteran of the first Great War, member for Queens, P.E.I., since 1940.

For Munitions Minister Howe—Lionel Chevrier, forty-one, Cornwall, Ont., a barrister and member for Stormont since 1935.

Before the Easter recess, approval was given by the House to appointment of ten assistants, of whom seven now have been named. It has been expected that other ministers for whom assistants will be named are Pensions Minister Mackenzie, Agriculture Minister Gardiner and Navy Minister Macdonald.

In the House yesterday, however, Mr. King said he could not say whether all ten would be appointed.

Mankind United Members Guilty

LOS ANGELES, May 7 (AP)—Possible sentences of twenty years in prison and $10,000 fine face each of ten men and two women convicted of conspiracy to violate the Wartime Sedition Act through activities of Mankind United.

Federal Judge Leon R. Yankwich ordered the twelve, at liberty on bail, to appear for sentence Monday at 2:30 p.m.

Four other reputed members of the group, described by Government officials as a secret semi-religious organization, were acquitted by a twelve-man jury which rendered its verdicts last night after fourteen hours' deliberation. Trial of the sixteen, all California residents, required five weeks.

Accusations against various defendants contained in the testimony of Government witnesses included:

Opposition to selective service by some, who also discouraged the purchase of war bonds; assertions that attacks by submarines on the west coast were not made by Japanese, but were propaganda reports of "Warlords" glorification of Hitler as the foe of "hidden rulers" responsible for the war.

No Liquor Rationing in England, Pubs Use Plan

LONDON, May 8 (CP).—Liquor hasn't been rationed in England as in Canada, but pubs and vendors have their own system. Most small taverns conserve their meagre supplies by placing only one or two bottles on the shelf daily or weekly, as the case may be. You've got to be around when the bottles are uncorked.

It's a bit different in the shops. [illegible] Only "regulars" will be served, probably a couple of times a month, and then bottles—one to each customer—will be slipped over the counter as furtively as a bootlegger serving a client.

It's no secret that there will be fewer bottles about before the war is over, but distillery officials say that whisky will always be on sale.

Since 1939 distilling has been progressively reduced until it has almost ceased, for the simple reason that the Ministry of Food has diverted grains which yield "Scotch" to other purposes. Scores of distilleries tucked away in remote Highland glens have been closed.

GOLDEN EGG TO THE EXCHEQUER

A bottle nowadays retails at twenty-five shillings and ninepence (about $5.85). There was a time, however, nearly 100 years ago, when a nip of the best cost only threepence (six cents). Since then whisky has been a golden egg to the Exchequer. In the budget of twenty-two Chancellors the tax has been increased nineteen times — from three shillings and fourpence a gallon in 1840 to 157 shillings and sixpence in 1943.

That means that every time a person buys a bottle these days the Government takes eighteen shillings and four and one-half pence, leaving seven shillings to be divided between retailer and distiller.

Exact figures of the stocks in store, or the quantities being exported, are a secret. But the men who should know declare that enormous supplies distilled during peacetime have been dispensed throughout the country, awaiting distribution.

Liquor, they say, ranks high among the Government's postwar export plans. Considerable quantities were shipped to the United States early in the war to provide dollar exchange. Adequate stocks have been set aside for dispatch overseas when trade can be restored.

Death Removes Harold Blakey

A well-known businessman of Victoria and district died yesterday in the person of Harold A. Blakey at the Royal Jubilee Hospital after a long illness. He was fifty-three years old and was a native of Sandy, Bedfordshire, England.

Mr. Blakey enlisted for service in the last war and went overseas from Victoria with the 2nd C.M.R.'s and was wounded at Passchendaele. On returning from war service, he settled in Brentwood and was active in community life. He was a prime mover in plans leading to the erection of the Brentwood Badminton Hall and was one of the first directors of Slinger's Winery.

He was a member of the Mount Newton Lodge, No. 89, A.F. & A.M., and also the Scottish Rite, Victoria.

He is survived by, beside his widow, one stepson, Sandy Thomson, at the family residence, 687 Island Road, and his mother, sisters and brothers.

Funeral services will be held in the chapel of the Sands Mortuary, Ltd., on Monday at 3 o'clock, Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson will officiate and interment will be in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

Veteran of Sea Dies at Home

Prominent in marine circles on the Pacific Coast, Andrew Irvine, seventy-seven years, 426 Montreal Street, died yesterday at the family residence. He was born in the Shetland Islands in 1866, and came to reside in Victoria in 1889.

For a number of years, Mr. Irvine was connected with the Canadian Navigation Company and the C.P.R. Coast Steamship Company, holding the rank of quartermaster. He continued with the service until 1932.

Mr. Irvine is survived by two daughters, Mrs. G. Linosay and Miss Evelyn Irvine, of this city; two sons, Arthur S. Irvine, of Duncan, and Robert M. Irvine, of San Francisco; also two grandchildren.

The remains are resting at the Thomson Funeral Home, and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Officer Missing

LONDON, May 7 (CP). — Wing Cmdr. H. R. Blatchford, D.F.C., of Edmonton, a thirty-one-year-old fighter pilot, was listed as missing tonight after seven years' service in the Royal Air Force.

Air authorities who released the information gave no details, except to say that Blatchford was leader of a Spitfire wing.

Blatchford came to England in 1936 to join the R.A.F. He fought in France and through the Battle of Britain at the controls of fighter aircraft. He became flying commander of an R.A.F. wing made up of some of the first R.C.A.F. fighter squadrons in action in this war and more recently he was fighting leader of British squadrons with which he had been associated during the greater part of his career.

He won the Distinguished Flying Cross in December, 1940, for "magnificent leadership and outstanding courage," displayed in combat a month earlier with a squadron of Italian aircraft attacking shipping off the English Coast.

Island Still Behind Quota In Bond Sale

Halifax Leads All Canadian Centres

With two-thirds of the time for the Fourth Victory Loan campaign virtually gone, Vancouver Island was still only slightly more than halfway towards its quota of $9,500,000 when books were closed yesterday, and officials of the National War Finance Committee took steps immediately to remedy the situation and intensify the drive to collect the balance of $4,598,550 during the next and final week.

Greater Victoria was also behind yesterday in the race with Greater Halifax for Victory loan honors, the latter community having put so much into the contest that it headed all Canadian cities in collections to date.

Exact figures for the two districts on Friday were:

Greater Halifax, $5,496,100

Greater Victoria, $3,816,400

Throughout the Island, most district units still have to collect more than half of their total quota and in all of them substantial sums are needed to put the loan across.

Detailed figures follow:

| | Subscribed to date | Their Quota | Amount still to be raised |
|---|---|---|---|
| Victoria | $2,273,550 | $4,100,000 | $1,820,450 |
| Saanich | 587,000 | 1,075,000 | 538,000 |
| Oak Bay | 519,200 | 1,105,000 | 585,800 |
| Esquimalt | 480,650 | 800,000 | 319,350 |
| Cowichan | 367,050 | 650,000 | 282,950 |
| Courtenay | 176,750 | 406,000 | 229,250 |
| Nanaimo | 375,500 | 714,000 | 338,500 |
| Alberni | 248,700 | 623,000 | 374,300 |

May Come to B.C. to Live

Cleric Who Married Windsors Is Arrested

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP).—Immigration authorities have arrested Rev. Robert Anderson Jardine, cleric who married the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, and his wife, Maude Evelyn Jardine, at Los Angeles on a deportation warrant charging them with overstaying their time in the United States.

A Justice Department official said the Jardines entered the United States in February, 1938, from France on a temporary visa which expired in February, 1941. Jardine had applied for a renewal of the visa, this official said, but was turned down. Mr. and Mrs. Jardine have been released without bond pending a hearing.

At Los Angeles, Mr. Jardine said he and his wife expect to leave for Canada or Mexico within thirty days rather than face a deportation hearing.

"My wife and I have been given until June 7 by immigration authorities to leave the United States or face a deportation hearing," he said.

WANTED TO SEE THEIR SON

"We wanted to stay a little longer in this country because we wanted to go to Detroit to see our boy, Paul, who is training with the R.A.F. at Cross Island.

"We haven't seen him for five years and this deportation warrant makes it rather awkward for us now."

"If we go to Canada we expect to establish a residence in Vancouver," he said.

Mr. Jardine is sixty-five and his wife fifty-seven. He has been inactive in church work.

The doors of the Church of England were closed to him after he married the Windsors, defying Anglican church authorities in so doing.

Halifax Gains On Victoria in Loan Campaign

HALIFAX, May 7 (CP).—Halifax County gained $68,700 on Greater Victoria today in their Victory Loan contest based on general sales and payroll subscriptions, running the Eastern competitor's lead up to $1,681,000.

Wounded Skipper on Deck Of Submarine Gave Life To Save Craft and Crew

"Take Her Down" He Ordered, Though It Meant He Would Drown—Is Awarded Medal of Honor

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP).—A submarine skipper whose last gallant order, "take her down," sealed his own death sentence was credited by the United States Navy today with successful attacks on three Japanese ships, the last of which the submarine rammed in a dramatic night fight for life.

It was in this final action somewhere in the distant Pacific that the officer rode the conning tower of his submerging submarine to his death rather than expose the craft to enemy gunfire.

He had been wounded a few moments before and knew that the time required to get him safely into the submarine might mean the submarine's destruction.

For this sacrifice, Commander Howard W. Gilmore of New Orleans, La., has been awarded posthumously the Congressional Medal of Honor by President Roosevelt.

STORY IS TOLD BY THE NAVY

The story was told by the navy today, partly in a communique and partly in an accompanying account of the final fight.

The communique, which also reported American air raids against Japanese positions in the Central Solomon Islands, listed the three last ships attacked successfully by the submarine under Gilmore's command as a medium cargo ship, sunk; a gunboat, damaged and probably sunk; a medium cargo ship, damaged.

The incident occurred, the navy said, "Early this year."

Gilmore's submarine was underway on the surface, searching the sea lanes for enemy ships.

Suddenly a Japanese gunboat spotted the undersea raider and dashed in to ram it. Gilmore skillfully evaded the gunboat. Then it was his turn.

He ordered a manoeuvre which placed the submarine in position to ram the gunboat and at a speed of seventeen knots drove his powerful craft into the Japanese ship, ripping its hull and apparently settling its fate.

GILMORE HIT BY HAIL OF BULLETS

The gunboat and submarine pulled apart and the former began to sink. At that moment its crew opened fire with heavy machine guns and Gilmore was struck by the hail of bullets. Members of his crew sought to carry him below.

He realized the navy account said, that the delay inevitable in taking a wounded man below deck might cost the submarine, or at least the lives of men. So in his final moments he gave his last order to the officer of the deck:

"Take her down."

The submarine dived. As she plunged under the surface, the wounded skipper still riding the bridge, the Japanese gunboat was settling deeper into the sea and apparently it sank. The sinking could not be definitely claimed, however.

Women Porters On Lake Ships

PORT ARTHUR, May 7 (CP).—Women have taken jobs as porters on some lake freighters for the first time, it was learned here today.

The first two to appear here arrived aboard a grain carrier, the Harry Hosford, a United States ship sailing out of Superior, Wis.

They were Carita Lobensteyn, twenty-one, and Constance Zajkowski, twenty, who signed on as crew members at Cleveland. Miss Lobensteyn's mother is the stewardess on the Harry Hosford.

Porters on the lake freighters care for the crew's cabins and also wait on tables.

Clayton Lauds Merchant Men

Victorian Back From Two Years at Sea

His ship and shipmates of the Canadian corvette Shediac being credited with rescuing more than 500 merchant seamen, 131 of them in a single day of high adventure on a certain New Year's Eve, Lieut. J. E. Clayton, R.C.N.R., is spending at his home, 2187 Guernsey Street, a leave of absence from which he will return shortly to resume his naval duties of the past two years.

Lieut. Clayton speaks glowingly of the Merchant Navy. "The high courage and tenacity of merchant seamen move one to marvel that they are able to carry on," he said, "yet, in the face of peril at all times, they go steadily about a job which, of itself alone, is truly colossal."

Of himself and crew, Lieut. Clayton says but little. Their duties, he declares are "routine," sometimes monotonous, but not wholly barren of excitement now and then. These are among the incidents in the line of "routine" duty:

It was on a 1,000-mile run to Gibraltar and return that the Shediac picked up 131 survivors of a single sinking.

Fought with long-range German bombers which shadowed them for three days and bombed them twice.

Fought a U-boat while gunners were fighting off air attacks and had so many subsequent battles with subs that depth charges were exhausted three times.

Found a cargo ship out of control, a sitting target, which the Shediac protected for two days and a night until tugs arrived, thus saving the cargo, crew and a vast amount of ammunition aboard the helpless freighter.

It was another Vancouver Island officer, Sub-Lieut. Robin Bush, of Maple Bay, who signalled the approach of enemy aircraft whose attack during the Gibraltar trip was supplemented by the work of a U-boat pack, but the convoy eventually got through without excessive loss.

Lacking word of his next assignment, Lieut. Clayton states that he is thoroughly enjoying his leave and the rest it affords him—but still, "You know how it is when there's work to be done."

Youngest Aircraft Detection Corps "Spotter"

British Columbia takes claim of having the youngest Aircraft Detection Corps "spotter."

He is Michael Templeton, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Templeton, of Stillwater, B.C., who spends his preschool days learning the types of aircraft which fly over his home from R.C.A.F. bases on the Pacific Coast.

Michael watches daily for visits of planes doing their circuits over the area and is forever chattering about fighters and bombers.

"It's a Douglas," cries Michael to his mother as he scrambles up the front steps from his play in the yard.

Michael is seldom wrong in his observations either. In fact, the elder Templetons, both observers of the A.D.C., have been corrected by their observant young son.

"We disagreed on one plane which flew over last month and when we checked it with the charts the air force supplies us with we found that Michael was right," said Mr. Templeton.

Michael is not the only youngster observer of the A.D.C. on the Pacific Coast.

W. K. S. Horsfall, chief observer in the Duncan area of Vancouver Island, has a six-year-old daughter, Dianne, who knows the kinds of "warbirds" which fly over her home.

A few weeks ago Dianne was visiting a friend, Mrs. A. Shaw—another A.D.C. observer—when an aircraft passed overhead. Knowing that in this particular area only flights of two or more aircraft are reported by A.D.C. observers, Mrs. Shaw remarked that she must run outside to see if there was more than one machine.

To this little Dianne replied: "Oh, you don't need to bother; it's only a single," and she named the type.

Just to check on Dianne's identification by ear, Mrs. Shaw had a look. The little girl was right.

Quintuplets at Sudbury on Way To Launch Ships

SUDBURY, Ont., May 7 (CP).—The Dionne quintuplets were visitors to Sudbury today, en route to Superior, Wis., where they will christen five ocean freighters in a ceremony Sunday.

The five sisters were up and around when the train reached here from North Bay, but did not leave their special coach.

The quints were accompanied by their parents, two brothers, two sisters and twelve other persons, including a strong guard of Provincial Police.

In addition to the Provincial Police escort, a special F.B.I. man from Washington was reported to be among the party.

Torpedo Sinks Norwegian Ship

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP).—The Navy Department reported today that a small Norwegian merchant vessel was torpedoed and sunk by an enemy submarine in mid-Atlantic early in March. Survivors have landed at Philadelphia.

Chief-of-Staff

LONDON, May 7 (CP).—Appointment of Major-Gen. Idwal Hubert Edwards, forty-eight, as chief-of-staff in the European theatre of operations was announced today by the United States Army.

He succeeds Brig.-Gen. Charles H. Barth, thirty-nine, killed last Monday in a plane accident in Iceland that also took the lives of Lt.-Gen. Frank M. Andrews and twelve others.

Navy Minister Confident Nazis Will Fail to Break Ocean Line

LONDON, Ont., May 7 (CP).—Navy Minister Macdonald said today he believes the German failure to break the Atlantic sea line in 1917 will be repeated this year, despite anticipated increases in submarine activity.

In an address prepared for delivery before the Canadian and Kiwanis Clubs here today, Mr. Macdonald said there is every indication that submarine attacks in the Atlantic will be heavier than ever before this year. Air attacks on German submarine bases and strengthened escort strength in surface ships and aircraft would be used to combat the increased threat.

"Despite our increased strength we cannot guarantee that we shall not have losses," the minister said. "Even against the strongest convoy protection a submarine may be able to strike a deadly blow."

"I have this hope, and I believe it will be justified, that just as the enemy failed in 1917 to break our sea line, so he will fail in 1943," he said.

"The Canadian Navy has undertaken a task of great difficulty and responsibility. It will strain every muscle and every nerve to discharge that task successfully."

Capt. Clark Gable In Fortress Raid

LONDON, May 7 (AP).—Captain Clark Gable went on his first raid in the Flying Fortress attack on May 4 on Antwerp and "enjoyed it and learned a lot," the United States Eighth Air Force today quoted him as saying.

Captain Gable, former film star, flew as an observer on a Fortress which went through the raid without encountering enemy planes and sustained only two small flak holes.

Squadron Leader Listed Missing

EDMONTON, May 7 (CP).—Wing Cmdr. Howard P. Blatchford, D.F.C., of Edmonton, leader of a squadron of Spitfire pilots overseas, is missing after air operations, word received here said.

Wing Cmdr. Blatchford is one of Edmonton's best-known flyers and has several enemy planes to his credit. He is the son of the late Kenneth Blatchford, former mayor of Edmonton, and Mrs. Blatchford, Edmonton's airport — Blatchford Field—was named after Wing Cmdr. Blatchford's father.

Frigate Slides Down the Ways

Destined to help the constantly growing fleet of escort vessels keep the Nazi submarine menace under control, another sleek Canadian-built frigate, H.M.C.S. New Glasgow, took her maiden dip at a West Coast Canadian port Wednesday evening.

Airmen Killed

SWIFT CURRENT, Sask., May 7 (CP).—Two airmen were killed in a crash Thursday evening shortly after six o'clock at No. 39 S.F.T.S. (R.A.F.). Next of kin have been informed and their names and other information will be released shortly.

Fail to Settle Railway Dispute

CHICAGO, May 7 (AP).—An emergency fact finding panel announced today it had failed to settle the dispute between 900,000 railroad non-operating workers and the country's principal railroads over union demands for higher wages.

I. L. Sharfman of the University of Michigan, chairman of the panel of three members who have been hearing the case since March 1, said it had "made every reasonable effort" to settle the controversy.

The panel now will retire into executive session, the chairman said, and prepare its report for submission to President Roosevelt.

To Launch Five Ships On Sunday

Dionne Quintuplets Will Be Sponsors

SUPERIOR, Wis., May 7 (AP).—Superior expects to break ship-launching records, strengthen international relations and hasten victory in four action-packed hours Sunday, but it was the visit of the Dionne quintuplets that had the city excited today.

The famous eight-year-olds are coming to this Head-of-the-Great Lakes city of 40,000 to christen the quint fleet, five sleek ocean freighters built for Great Britain under lend-lease arrangements.

Statesmen of three nations, admirals and tens of thousands of spectators will be here. As for record, never have vessels gone sidewise down the ways in such numbers.

Each of the quints will sponsor a ship, dashing a pint bottle of Niagara Falls water against the bow as it slides down the ways and splashes into Lake Superior.

CHRISTENING TO BE IN ENGLISH

The christening will be in English. Whether Annette, Cecile, Emilie, Marie or Yvonne will have the honor of sending the first vessel on its way to war cargo duty will be determined by lot.

The freighters are the Moses Gay, Asa Eldridge, Gordon Gates, Bailey Foster and Watson Ferris, named for captains of early American frigates and assigned by the United States Maritime Commission.

At one time it was planned to give the sponsors' names to the fleet, but this was abandoned when attention was called to a tradition of the sea—that it is bad luck to change the name after the keel has been laid.

But the quints aren't disappointed. At the Dionne home near Callander, Ont., Yvonne gave their answer:

"What does that matter? We are going there to christen the ships so we can help win the war—not because they were to be named for us."

Part of the ceremony will be broadcast in Canada and the United States and by shortwave to Great Britain. The broadcast will begin at 3 p.m. (C.D.T.). The quintuplets will send greetings and sing several songs in French and English.

VANCOUVER, May 7 (CP).—At least 600 Vancouver shipyard workers are unable to maintain a decent living standard on their present wage of fifty cents an hour, says a survey prepared by the Pacific Coast Labor Bureau and released by the Dock and Shipyard Workers' Union.

The report said these wages were below the minimum approved by Canadian health authorities as sufficient to shape a budget permitting proper nourishment, clothing and medical care.

VANCOUVER, May 7 (CP).—A resolution disclaiming responsibility for a statement made by Elgin Ruddell, shop steward in Aeronautical Mechanics' Lodge No. 756 (A.F.L.), charging fifty-four PBY bombers built here by Boeing Aircraft of Canada Ltd. had been rejected by the R.C.A.F. was adopted unanimously at a general meeting of the lodge last night.

Ruddell made the charge at a public rally here May 2. It was denied next day by Air Commodore A. L. Johnson, director of aeronautical inspection for the R.C.A.F.

Canadian Press Traffic Man Dies

TORONTO, May 7 (CP).—Ray McCormick, forty-three, traffic department employee of The Canadian Press for eighteen years, died in hospital today. He had suffered a stroke a week ago.

A native of Northfield, Vt., Mr. McCormick joined The Canadian Press staff February 1, 1925. He was one of C.P.'s first teletype operators. His widow and one daughter survive.

Member Critical

NORTH VANCOUVER, May 7 (CP).—Labor Minister C. D. Pearson "should have headed a delegation to Ottawa protesting the whole Boeing situation," Mrs. D. G. Steeves, C.C.F. member of the Legislature for North Vancouver, said in an address here last night.

Mrs. Steeves coupled her reference to the recent rest period dispute which closed Boeing plants for six days with a charge the Provincial Government showed a lack of interest in labor matters.

Student Airman Killed

CALGARY, May 7 (CP).—A student airman, Canadian, from No. 3 S.F.T.S., Currie Barracks, was killed when his plane crashed while on a routine training flight, approximately eight miles northwest of the Currie Airdrome at 11.05 p.m. Thursday, it was announced by officials of the flying school today.

Airborne Canada

Here is a hard-fighting sergeant of a Canadian airborne battalion, wearing the distinctive wings and shoulder-patches which will distinguish these forces. The wings are silver, gull-shaped, with a silver parachute showing in the centre. Shoulder-patches are dark-green in color, bearing the legend, "Airborne Canada."

WARNING

Victoria is definitely behind in her quota of the Fourth Victory Loan. And we can FAIL unless EVERY ONE of us does our full share.

VICTORY IN NORTH AFRICA

The capture of Tunis and Bizerte came with dramatic suddenness, with wholly unexpected speed and with a rapid crumbling of the Axis resistance that was not anticipated. It may not mean the actual, but it is the virtual end of the campaign in North Africa. The remnant of the enemy's forces can retire to the Cape Bon Peninsula but their reduction, capture or annihilation there would only be a question of a very short time. The event is a milestone in the fortunes of war for the United Nations; it marks a stage completed preparatory to the long anticipated "Second Front" in Europe.

The British First Army captured Tunis, the capital; the American Second Corps had the honor of entering Bizerte, but both forces were aided by French arms and the Fighting French can see in this victory an earnest of the eventual freedom of their country in which task they themselves are destined to play an important part. It must be remembered, too, that the final stage now reached in the Tunisian campaign was contributed to largely by the British Eighth Army which inflicted such heavy losses on the enemy in driving through the Mareth and El Akarit defences to and beyond Enfidaville. Possibly the land forces never would have been able to achieve their end within the time they have done so had it not been for the great air power, both British and American, which co-operated in the campaign. In the last few days that power was displayed on an unprecedented scale in North Africa. It cut the paths, as it were, for the armies advancing on Tunis and Bizerte and the havoc it wrought may well explain why the Axis Powers weakened so suddenly after losing their strongholds in the hills.

There was another factor of vital importance in the campaign and that was the battering which the Royal Navy, assisted by British and American airplanes, gave to the enemy's lifeline from Sicily to Tunisia. The story of what was accomplished in this respect has only been told in small measure. What is certain is that, especially in the concluding stages of the struggle, the Axis Powers were only able to bring in a dribble of reinforcements and supplies to their African army so great was the concentration of sea and air power on their line of communication.

It is just six months since British and American troops landed in Algeria and Morocco and commenced their preparations for the task which was virtually achieved yesterday. For months, while concentrations were effected, the campaign was a holding one. It is little less than four weeks ago since General Montgomery, whose army formed the spearhead of the attack, began to forge northwards. That was the signal for the forward movement, and the results sought have been achieved in brilliant fashion. All arms deserve every congratulation as do General Eisenhower, the commander in chief, General Sir Harold Alexander, the commander of the land forces, Admiral Sir Andrew Cunningham, in command of the naval forces and the air leaders who directed that phase of the campaign. It was a triumph of co-operation, and showed the Germans, as they have never been shown before, how their blitzkrieg methods can be copied and bettered. The Tunisian campaign in its conduct is a hopeful augury of events to come.

THEIR EXCELLENCIES

With the pleasant and remembered associations of two previous visits in this Provincial capital, Victoria will be honored by the distinguished presence of Their Excellencies, the Earl of Athlone and H.R.H. Princess Alice, on Sunday. The Governor-General and Princess Alice will arrive from Seattle at 12:35 p.m. on Sunday, after a brief visit to United States points. They will be in residence at Government House until Wednesday, leaving at 1:20 p.m. on that day for Vancouver, en route East.

As Commander-in-Chief of the three armed services, His Excellency will visit naval, military and air force establishments in this area; present awards and decorations won for meritorious service in uniform; and generally fill a brief, but busy, official progoramme. Princess Alice is to receive a number of women's services, including women's auxiliaries to the fighting services and the leaders of Girl Guides, St. John Ambulance Association, and the crew of the R.C.M.P. Arctic patrol vessel, St. Roch, are also to be granted audiences by the viceregal party.

Their Excellencies are no strangers here. On two previous occasions they endeared themselves to the people of Victoria and Vancouver Island in a manner that is remembered with esteem and the highest of regard. On March 31, 1941, the Governor-General and Princess Alice held a public reception in the Legislative Assembly Chamber, and were there welcomed by long queues of our citizens. While there will be no public reception in this instance, the return of Their Excellencies coincides, happily, with Springtime in Victoria. That, perhaps, may be left to speak for itself, as it does eloquently.

RUSSO-POLISH BREAK

Despite M. Stalin's expressed desire for better relations between Russia and Poland, there seems, at the moment, but little prospect of healing the breach. M. Vishinski, Deputy Commissar for Foreign Affairs, makes serious charges against the Poles who are in Russia, and these follow within twenty-four hours of M. Stalin's pronouncement, and presumably are made with the Russian ruler's approval. The Poles are accused of engaging in espionage inimical to Russia, and it is said that their guilt in this particular has been established in court. The guilty parties are alleged to be members of the Polish diplomatic staff, which makes the charge all the more serious. A more drastic charge still is that the temporary Polish Government in London is under the influence of pro-Hitlerite elements. Moreover, it is alleged that the Polish Army in Russia, organized to fight against the Germans, remains inactive.

There are probably many wheels within wheels in this dispute that has arisen but the charges made by the Russian Government are so serious that any new rapprochement seems distant. In fact, fuel is constantly being added to the flames that have broken out, and because of the feelings aroused there must be a good deal of concern felt about the fate of Poles in Russia, and there are many scores of thousands there. So far, there is no move in London to change the character of the temporary Polish Government there and Premier Sikorski appears to continue to enjoy the confidence of the British Administration.

The causes behind the development that has taken place may lie in the history of the Polish nation, which, because of past events, has as little cause to trust the Russians as it has to place any faith in Germany. Meantime the gravity of the situation lies in the fact that there should be any break in the outlook of the United Nations on the war. That break is emphasized in the knowledge it was Germany's aggression in Poland that was the beginning of the struggle in its present proportions. The hope will be that some new agreement can be reached. There remains, however, a seeming lack of harmony among the United Nations in the present development having ensued without either Great Britain or the United States being notified in advance by the Kremlin. Russia, in part at least in its attitude, obviously desires to plough a lonely furrow.

KISKA

Kiska, which by now must be the most heavily bombed spot in the Pacific Ocean area of war, is one of the Rat islands in the Aleutian chain which extends westward from Alaska and forms an insular continuation of that peninsula with Kamchatka. What strategy governed the occupation of this island by the Japanese is not clear, though its importance as a base between the two nearest points of the North American and Asiatic continents is apparent. The Japanese, however, so far as has been made public, are not using Kiska as a base for air forays in any direction. It has only a doubtful value to the enemy as a submarine supply centre, for the tonnage of shipping of the United Nations within reach is negligible. Possibly the Japanese idea in its occupation is as an airplane base from which to intercept bombers on their way to Japan. As such, no opportunity has arisen to test its usefulness.

The repeated bombing of Kiska can only be with the purpose of preventing any large assembly of airplanes there. If that island is considered of strategic importance otherwise it is fairly obvious that before now steps would have been taken to oust the enemy, the more especially as Kiska and all the Rat islands were a part of the American Aleutian chain before the war. The fact remains that this island continues to be pounded heavily from the air, though the targets, in a military sense, must be somewhat minute as the Japanese are not there in any great strength.

Attu (Attoo), an island of the Aleutians also held by the Japanese, lies farther to the west than Kiska but it has been comparatively immune from attack. Only time (and a long time has already elapsed) will show what lies at the back of the Japanese plans in seizing these two islands out of the 150, or more, comprising the Aleutian chain.

HALIFAX STRETCHING OUT

At noon yesterday, Greater Halifax was $1,679,700 ahead of Greater Victoria in the inter-city bond race. At that hour, our sturdy opponent had rolled up a total of $5,496,100 worth of Victory Loan bonds to apply in the competition. Victoria, with its neighboring communities, had reached $3,816,400 at the same hour. That left a difference of almost a million and three-quarters to find before Greater Victoria can get back into the race as a successful challenger.

With seven working days to go, nobody here is going to cry quits. The challenge was a challenge. The race is a fair one. The best community, in the bond-buying way, will win. It would be a splendid thing to capture that trophy for our centenary year. The odds now are long and stiff, but let there be no faint hearts in the contest. On one celebrated occasion the race did not go to the hare but to the tortoise. It seems a lot to expect that Greater Halifax will now fall asleep. They do not look sleepy, those Haligonians! They are on their toes.

Still, we can try. Try we must. Apart from the inter-city contest, Greater Victoria has still some distance to go to reach the official quota for this area. That is $7,080,000; made up as follows: Victoria City, $4,100,000; Saanich, $1,075,000; Oak Bay, $1,105,000; Esquimalt, $800,000. With seven days to go those quotas should be reached in any event. If we can make a successful bid now for the contest, let us do that. Only bond sales will do it. Who's for a bond?

FROM: THE WAR CRY OF THE EAGLES

The eagles of Tecumseh
Still hold they lofty flight,
And guard their own on outposts lone
Across the fields of light.
They hold their valiant instinct
And know their right of birth,
They do not cede their pride of breed
For things of little worth.

They see on earth below them,—
Where time is but a breath,
Another race brought face to face
With liberty or death.
Above a thousand cities
A new day is unfurled,
And still on high those watchers cry
Their challenge o'er the world.

Where patriots are marching
And battle flags are borne
So South and North their cry goes forth
To rally and to warn.
From border unto border,
They wheel and cry again
That master cry, "If freedom die,— Ye will have lived in vain!"

—Bliss Carmen.

CARTHAGE FRONT

(Near Tunis are the ruins of Carthage.)

This phantom city by a tideless shore
Whence Dido watched her lover's longship fade
Was towered Carthage, terrible in war.
Potent in peace, in death a royal shade.
Drear centuries along the Middle Sea
Raven and owl have mourned her perished pride.
Her crown the thistle, and her majesty
Robed in the sand that sifts her forum's side.

Now Carthage wakens to a battle-cry
Wilder than any raised in Punic fight.
While far above her through a startled sky
The cloud-borne riders flash across the night.
And swift to southward leaps a fiercer fire
Than flared of old from Dido's oaken pyre.

—J. C. Trewin in The London Observer.

ON HUMAN PROGRESS

Sometimes, in the Reverie Club, the members draw up their chairs to the fire and read. Beyond the range of the shaded lights, the shadows dance on the wall; leaping and falling, going through as many gyrations as man himself has indulged in through successive ages in enall things, in the role of observer I note that the members often evoke times past; reading of what was current, and even "modern," one, two or three hundred years ago. It is strange reading, that.

Very strange reading. Men were imprisoned for the abominable crime of poverty, and left in jail to rot. Theft, however slight, was a capital offence, as were most of the other crimes in the calendar, and it was a long calendar. Men were branded in the face for a variety of reasons. Others, found in the forest, had their hands or feet cut off. It was considered nothing at all to lose an ear, while the extraction of a tongue by its roots was the common penalty for repeating tales in the presence of a paid informer. The courts ground ceaselessly, but only in one direction. The stocks were never empty. Public whippings disgraced everybody, their beholders most of all. Justice, in short, was blind, venal and quite often doddering in the last stages of senile decay.

Yet, from that came the right of habeas corpus, trial by jury, the assumption of each man's innocence until his guilt was proved—and that beyond the shadow of a doubt. From that came a gallows that worked only as a last, desperate remedy—and it is still a poor one. In recoil from such times were established some of the cherished rights of man; the freedom of the person, the sanctity of the home, the equality of all men before the law. The trial of the law itself, by way of appeal.

Still farther back, and there is stranger reading. Time was when men were born slaves. Men, women and children were sold and bought in the open market place; knocked down to the highest bidder, along with their heirs and successors forever. Willing or incorrigible, slaves could be sent to the bastinado for a thousand strokes on the soles of their feet, or on their backs. A man, or a woman, had only to lift one capricious finger, and someone would be beaten out of recognition as a living human form. Ships were launched on the blood of captives taken in war. Slaves would do, if there were not enough hostages to go around. It was all one. Human life had no value. Dogs were worth infinitely more.

Well, we have outgrown some of that, but not it all. We still treat poverty as if it were an abominable crime. We still bow and scrape before riches, however acquired. There is still—deny it who will—one law for the rich and another for the poor. We value freedom so little that we cannot tolerate in others any contrary thought to our own. We call on Heaven to witness how righteous we are, on Sundays, while every other day in the week we will pass misery, ill-health, misfortune by on the street without a moment's thought. Strange shadows for a fire to throw in this, the year of Our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Forty-Three! But they are not alone. There are other shadows there.

In the other shadows I seem to see brighter things. They are the shadows, perhaps projected forward, before events that are yet to come. In these, it seems to me, there is a realization that poverty is not a crime; that all individuals must be secure before any will be really so; that between the worth of one individual and another there is so little difference that perhaps only the Creator can know what it is; that freedom—of worship, of person, of assembly, of speech—is not a slogan, but a state of living; that man, in short, was born to be raised, and in God's own time will be—whether we wish it or no. And with those shadows, the Reverie Club is well content. Rome, they say, was not built in a day. Freedom will come to man, when man is ready for freedom. It would seem, however, that we are on our way. We still hang men; but we have stopped cutting off their hands, their feet, their tongues and their ears in this, the civilized world.

Ceylon's "Raid Remembrance Day," April 4, was celebrated with religious services.

No letter to the Editor will be inserted except over the proper signature and address of the writer. This rule admits of no exception. No letter should exceed 300 words in length.

VEGETARIANISM

Sir,—With rationing of meat there is no need to fear that we will not have sufficient protein foods in our diet. The writer has been a lacto-vegetarian for over twelve years. Those who have known my history during that time and who daily compliment me on my health simply testify to the value of natural foods.

Vegetarians have proved that there is more health, energy, vitality and real happiness in life from a non-flesh diet—minus liquor, tobacco and other habit-forming drugs that the flesh (diet) is heir to—than with it.

The chemical poisons and acids in meat are not found in peas, beans, lentils, nuts or grains, and with the addition of milk and eggs from known pure sources, every need of the body is met. There are preparations of natural products for those who need a superabundance of iron, phosphorous, etc., such as powdered kelp and liquid chlorophyll, but a normally healthy individual can find sufficient to meet all its needs in the above foods with "greens" and fruits.

The human body was not made carnivorous. There are many proofs of this which are known to most students of human health and anatomy. A thought on this point which is not well known is that flesh-eating animals lap water while drinking and non-flesh eaters sip water.

The prevalence of stomach ulcers in the army is largely the result of such a high percentage of meat consumed. Sources which appear authoritative declare that German and Japanese soldiers are eating large amounts of soya beans in various ways. Collier's states that American troops are finding soy foods acceptable. No doubt the Canadian Army is awake to this wonder food.

Meat is almost unknown in China where land is so valuable. These naturally happy and peaceful people who work so long and so hard live largely on soya beans and the foods so easily made from them.

In the interests of health and national welfare, Vital Health Products have secured a quantity of registered soy beans from the University of Manitoba for experimental growing on Southern Vancouver Island. These beans require a warm location which must not become too dry. If any of your readers are interested in growing soy beans, we will supply up to five pounds free and will undertake to buy the seed at 5c per pound.

Any recipients of this offer must undertake to follow the simple cultivation as advised by the Experimental Station at Agassiz.

A POTATO PROBLEM

Sir,—Mr. Mangles, of Sandwick, B.C., a member of the Marketing Control Board in apparently three sections of British Columbia, including Vancouver Island, stoutly defends the board in taking Alderman Hawkins, of Victoria City, to task. Alderman Hawkins does not grow "spuds" for the market, but Mr. Mangles does; and further, the latter says there are not sufficient potatoes grown on Vancouver Island, south of Duncan, to supply the Victoria market for more than four months, and that in this particular area the 1942 crop suffered heavily from disease. But, the chairman of the board himself produced in 1942 sufficient "spuds" to take care of the Victoria market for three months; and, of course, that was when the potatoes on the south end of Vancouver Island were diseased, and being so diseased would very naturally be consigned to limbo.

The writer has in mind now a certain thirty-seven tons of "spuds," not diseased, which the board was unable to sell and consequently wrote a peremptory letter to the shipper, telling him in effect to get them away from their storage immediately, or they would dump them "into the drink," at his expense! So it now seems apparent that Mr. Mangles has supplied us at long last with the possible solution as to how the game is efficiently played by the members of the board. Little wonder the Duncan and south end of Vancouver Island, including the Saanich Peninsula growers, could not supply the Victoria market. They grew diseased potatoes, according to Mr. Mangles, a member of the board of control, and yet the chairman of the board came to the rescue, supplying the Victoria market himself. Where is his farm, 'cause that's a large-sized order for any one man to fill? Here is another solution: No grower or dealer in "spuds" in British Columbia shall be eligible to be a member of the Provincial Marketing Board.

TWO REST PERIODS DAILY

Sir,—It is hard for the innocent taxpayer to understand the difficulty in connection with Boeing Aircraft. You yourselves do not help to clarify the issue when you refer editorially to ten-minute rest periods in each hour and in your news column to two ten-minute rest periods in an eight-hour day. If the latter version is correct, the men's request does not seem unreasonable. They claim—and tests in other plants have proved them right—that production will be increased by rest periods. It is easily susceptible of proof in the Boeing plant, and if no production can be increased by rest periods, why should Canada's war effort be hindered through a quibble over the letter of a contract and what seems mere obstinacy on the part of one man? Try the men's plan and see who is right.

THE CAVERN OF GIBRALTAR

Sir,—Recently a letter appeared in The Colonist which stated that tunnelers of the Royal Engineers, who continue blasting and boring their way into the heart of the rock, have discovered a cavern which they estimated had been sealed for about 20,000 years. In regard to this report about the discovery of the cavern at Gibraltar, I would ask how could this cavern and even the Rock of Gibraltar itself exist unchanged in such a long period of time?

Material species won't continue to exist forever. A rock, however hard and solid it may be, gradually wears away in a period of time through rain, frost, heat and the air. A lot of changes occur in 1,000 years, then imagine the changes in 4,290 years since the flood.

I would think that this cavern at Gibraltar was formed during the time of the flood which covered the whole face of the earth.

HEALTH INSURANCE

Sir,—Replying to Mrs. King's letter in today's Colonist, I feel I must voice my opinion in respect to a few of her questions.

Anyone who has had a family and felt the sting of a hospital bill, followed by the doctor's bill; then, more bills, will welcome any kind of insurance. That will, for instance, give us the feeling that our babies come into this world paid for. As to myself, I have two lovely, healthy boys, one two and one-half years and one five months' old. My first boy cost me over $200 before he was two years old. My second baby cost me $104 before he left the hospital, and after he came home his formula did not agree with him, and after trying many formulas, the doctor ordered him to go back to the hospital for observation and to get his diet perfected. At the age of six weeks he had cost me $178, so with two average boys I have paid (or have to pay) a total of $378 in two and one-half years. Mrs. King's much protested tax of $2 per month, or $24 per year, would cover me from now for over fifteen years, and more over. We are a young married couple, and consequently the stork is not a bit scared of us.

Concluding, I would like to hear what our Old Country readers think of health insurance, because many of you must have enjoyed the benefits of the panel doctor in England.

From Europe Day by Day—

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1943, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, May 7.—The major offensive opened by the British First Army, which, with magnificent support of the Royal Air Force, assisted by United States air squadrons, has got within short distance of Tunis, thus virtually splitting the Axis defence lines.

Capture of the hill known as Jebelaoukaz by the First Army, which has now developed into a formidable force, opened the way for the troops into the Tunisian plain. Already, says The Times' military correspondent, there is no landward communication between the two halves of the Axis armies. The British have gained freedom to manoeuvre for further operations.

Improvement in the weather has allowed the Allies to use a big force of half-British, half-American machines to launch the most powerful air offensive yet seen in Africa. Over 1,000 aircraft participated in attacks kept up ceaselessly on every spot where enemy movements were detected.

The United States drive in the north is going well, but it is not of the same strategic importance as that of the First Army. French forces in this area and in the neighborhood of Point du Fahs have also good results to show.

Meanwhile the Eighth Army is biding its time.

Marshal Stalin's statement to The Times favoring a strong independent Poland after the war, says The Times' diplomatic correspondent, has given rise to new hope the Russo-Polish dispute will ere long be settled. The statement has been welcomed by General Sikorsky and from its terms no Polish patriot can dissent.

The British Government is now working hard to bring about a reconciliation and Foreign Secretary Eden has reviewed the whole problem with Ambassador Maisky. The Polish ministers, adds The Times' correspondent, have little doubt the Polish people would welcome a treaty alliance with the Soviet Union after the war.

Meanwhile the Nazis are busier than ever. Marshal Stalin's letter to The Times was such a rebuff to them they have been reduced to ridiculing it, and pretending that Russia wants to Bolshevize Poland. Stalin's statement has been widely published throughout Russia.

Editorially The Times says Marshal Stalin has put the whole issue with Poland into proper perspective and it should be kept there. British diplomacy has consequently a difficult and delicate task before it if the new turn in Russo-Polish relations is to yield the utmost good.

As for General Sikorsky, he never as a soldier, despaired even when things were at their worst, and, as a statesman, he proved himself by the pact with Stalin when he went to Moscow in 1941.

Whether the suggestion Premier Churchill should again go to Moscow is well based or not, adds The Times, it is at least interesting as showing how powerful the movement for a partnership between the Allies is growing as it becomes more and more clear that peace positively demands firm and close understanding between Moscow, Washington and London.

According to Culbertson

A squeeze play is often an alternative for a finesse, although, of course, certain types of squeezes can be executed in deals where no finesse is available. Assuming that declarer understands the modus operandi of squeezes, his real problem is to determine, usually by means of the opponents' discards, whether the finesse or the squeeze offers the better chance. Consider this case:

South, dealer.
East-West vulnerable.
Rubber bridge.

♠ A 7
♥ K 9 5
♦ A K Q 2
♣ 8 6 5 3

WEST
♠ K J 9 8
♥ 10 7 4
♦ J 10 9 7 3

EAST
♠ 10 6 5 3
♥ Q J 8 3
♦ 8 5
♣ 9 4 2

SOUTH
♠ Q 4 2
♥ A 6 2
♦ 8 4
♣ A K Q J 10

The bidding:

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 ♣ | Pass | 1 ♦ | Pass |
| 2 NT | Pass | 3 NT | Pass |
| Pass | Pass | | |

South's two no trump rebid was rather optimistic and it was only natural that North should have counted on more top cards to be opposite him. However, the final contract although reached by leaps and bounds rather than cautious investigation, was fairly logical.

West opened the diamond jack. Dummy won and declarer took stock. In sight were five club tricks, three diamonds, two hearts, and one spade, a total of eleven that could be augmented by the necessary trick in any one of several ways. If the spade king was in East's hand a simple finesse toward the queen would produce the fulfilling trick.

Declarer, however, did not like to risk all his chances on this 50-50 possibility. He decided to "fool around" for a while and gather what information he could. To that end he ran off four rounds of clubs. West, after following suit only once, discarded a low diamond, a low heart, and accommodatingly the nine of spades. Declarer knew West to be the "honest" type of signaler; hence he was quite ready to believe that West had high spades. This impression was bolstered by the fact that East let go a low spade. Having made up his mind as to the probable location of the spade king, declarer now proceeded to put an admirable plan into execution. Keeping his fifth club, he led a low heart and, when West played the seven, put in dummy's nine. East won and returned a low spade. Declarer did not make the mistake of wasting the queen on this trick; he played low and permitted West's eight to force the ace. Now the king and ace of hearts were cashed. West followed one round, but in order to keep diamonds guarded had to let go the spade jack. Now declarer delivered the coup de grace by laying down his last club and West's position was hopeless. If he let go the spade king, declarer could cash the queen before collecting the A-K of diamonds; if West relinquished another diamond, dummy's A-K and deuce would be perfectly good.

Lusitania Day Remembered.—Prussian frightfulness was denounced and the determination of America to help wipe it out was emphasized at Carnegie Hall at a Lusitania memorial mass meeting tonight under the auspices of the American Defence Society and the American Rights League. The speakers were Theodore Roosevelt and Senator Robert L. Owen, of Oklahoma. Ostracism from the markets of the civilized world until they are ready to accede to the principles of international law and enter the family of nations as law-abiding members was urged by Senator Owen as the penalty the world should inflict upon the German, Austrian, Bulgarian and Turkish peoples.

Hon. Wilfrid Laurier Coming.—A private letter was received in Victoria on Friday evening from Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, leader of the Opposition in the Dominion Parliament, in which he expresses his intention of paying a visit to the Pacific Coast in July. This confirms the announcement made a few days ago in the Ottawa correspondence of The Colonist. Arrangements will no doubt be made to give a warm reception to Mr. Laurier, who no doubt will address one or more political meetings.

Loan Nearing $700,000,000

Canadian Total Well Ahead of Last Drive

OTTAWA, May 7 (CP)—The National War Finance Committee announced tonight that subscriptions to Canada's Fourth Victory Loan have averaged $63,084,360 daily in the first ten days of the three weeks' drive for a minimum objective of [illegible]

Should today's receipts approach the average, the national total tomorrow would come within striking distance of the $700,000,000 mark, the committee said. The ten-day total of subscribers to the fourth loan, namely 782,246, compared with 563,696 at the same stage of last Autumn's Third Victory Loan, objective of which was $750,000,000.

The headquarters' statement said 126,252 individual subscribers invested $66,737,100 on the tenth day of the campaign, and the cumulative numerical total of individual subscriptions now stands at 782,246, a daily average of 78,224. Increasing results are earnestly hoped for from general canvass.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE COMMISSION SUBSCRIBES

Thursday's returns included $15,000,000 subscribed from the funds of the Unemployment Insurance Commission of Canada.

First returns on subscriptions by overseas units of the Canadian Army total $564,750 to date from 4,910 subscribers. This figure compares with a total subscribed during the Third Victory Loan of $402,000. The grand total of subscriptions so far from all Canadian Army units, at home and overseas, stands at $8,301,600. The grand total subscribed in the third loan was $3,052,950.

Halifax continued to lead tonight among cities with the highest mark for combined general canvass and payroll savings, with 79.6 per cent, followed by Brantford, Ont., with 78 per cent, and Fredericton, with 71.3 per cent. Lethbridge, Alta., passed its objectives today to report 107 per cent. Other high percentages are Vancouver, 57.2; Moose Jaw, 52.4.

Moose Jaw took the leadership among cities which have yet to reach their gross objectives, with 93 per cent. In second and third places are Brantford, with 90.1 per cent and Halifax, with 85.4 per cent. Lethbridge exceeded its quota this morning, with 110 per cent. Other highest percentages are: Regina, 64.7; Red Deer, Alta., 63.8; Fort William, 62.2; Medicine Hat, Alta., 61.9.

What Today Means

TAURUS

If May 8 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date will be from 9:15 to 11:15 a.m., from 1:15 to 3:15 p.m. and from 7:15 to 9:15 p.m. The danger periods will be from 7:15 to 9:15 a.m., from 5:15 to 7:15 p.m. and from 9:15 to 11:15 p.m.

To get through May 8 successfully be your natural self, avoid making pretentious claims and resist the temptation to put your finger in someone else's pie. Unless you are prepared to assume the responsibility that goes with giving out free advice, you will be wise to refrain from offering any. There may be considerable danger involved in the flagrant disregard of rules governing conventions, so think twice before throwing any of them to the four winds. Those of you who are married, engaged or are convinced you have found your matrimonial ideal, should constantly "labor to keep alive in your breast that little spark of celestial fire—conscience."

If you are a woman and May 8 is your birthday, always remember that when an accident is an accident no one should be censured severely or held accountable for it. Never let a little authority turn your head or cause you to become less sympathetic in your dealings with those around you. Avoid jumping to conclusions if you wish to avoid committing many injustices and want to retain a high degree of popularity. As a result of your activity as a dietitian, teacher, secretary, librarian, writer, actress, business manager, trained nurse, or in some wartime occupation, your efficiency [illegible] being richly rewarded. You apparently possess all the qualities a good wife should have, so your matrimonial experience ought to be very happy.

The child born on May 8 has, as a rule, a remarkable quantity of determination, an inordinate amount of ambition and an insatiable desire to be in the limelight whenever possible. Auspicious conditions appear to surround the future of the Taurus child, so parents are justified in entertaining great expectations that his mature efforts will get great results.

If you are a man and May 8 is your natal day, it might be well when indulging in guesswork to realize that the other fellow's guess is liable to be just as good as yours, so there never is any justification for you to engage in a dispute about it. To keep your digestion unimpaired, do not become angry over trifles. As a composer, musician, artist, politician, contractor, builder, inventor, manufacturer, business executive, lawyer, doctor, clergyman, sales representative, journalist, author or doing your part to win this war, you may find yourself face to face with Fame and Fortune.

One man was reported to have died, three were reported dangerously ill and one seriously ill. Defence Headquarters said these casualties were not connected with any specific operation.

Following is the list:

KILLED IN ACTION

Earl of Athlone Will Be Here When Empire Youth Sunday Observed

MONTREAL, May 7 (CP)—Canada's 20,000 air cadets will observe Empire Youth Sunday, May 16, with church parades, inspection and ensign presentations in cities and towns from coast to coast, it was announced by cadet officials tonight.

The Governor-General, the Earl of Athlone, patron of the Air Cadet League of Canada, will take part in Victoria, B.C., ceremonies.

Britons may lay in more fuel than the "ration" during May, June and July but they must sign a solemn pledge to make it last out until the end of March, 1944.

Mrs. G. W. Brown Dies in Hospital

A past queen of Miriam Temple, No. 2, Daughters of the Nile, Mrs. Ada Marcell Brown, sixty-two years, widow of George W. Brown, 53 Lewis Street, died yesterday in Royal Jubilee Hospital after an illness of three weeks. She had been a resident of Victoria for thirty-four years.

Mrs. Brown was born in Liverpool, England, and her parents were the late Captain [illegible] and Mrs. W. H. Copp, natives of New Brunswick and of United Empire Loyalist stock. When she was only two weeks old, Mrs. Brown went to sea with her parents and had since visited all parts of the world, by sail and steam. She came to Victoria as a bride, being married in Wesley Methodist Church, Vancouver, on March 20, 1909, and has lived here ever since.

During her residence in Victoria, Mrs. Brown took a keen interest in the work of the Daughters of the Nile, and became a charter member of the order. She was elcted queen of Miriam Temple in 1934, and the crown, symbolic of her office, was conferred upon her at impressive installation ceremonies.

She was also interested in work for the Queen Alexandra Solarium at Mill Bay and the armed forces.

Besides her widower, Mrs. Brown is survived by one son, William Robert Brown, E.R.A., R.C.N., and his wife, Lillian; a niece, Mrs. Sonia Shorting, Stave Falls, B.C.; also an aunt, Mrs. N. Davis, in Providence, R.I.; also nieces, nephews and cousins in the United States.

The remains are resting in Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel pending funeral arrangements.

Many Chaplains Now Overseas

OTTAWA, May 7 (CP)—Group Captain W. E. Cockram, of Toronto, director of chaplain services (Protestant) for the R.C.A.F., said in a dispatch from Air Force Headquarters tonight that thirty-five Protestant chaplains now are serving at various R.C.A.F. stations in England, and that padres have been chosen to follow the air force as soon as the invasion of the continent gets under way.

Group Captain Cockram has just returned from a tour in Britain.

At one station, Flt. Lt. Jack Jolley, of Regina, holds Sunday morning services in the squadron dispersal hut, and attendances so far have been exceptional, since the pilots and ground crews, tied to dispersal through long hours of the day during the Spring and Summer months, are grateful for the idea.

The station has a chapel, but it's on the other side of the air field and about a mile away. Not even on Sunday morning can the pilot of a Spitfire afford to be more than about ten seconds' fast sprint from his aircraft.

The services are simple, and the squadron members turn up in whatever they happen to be wearing at the time; the ground crews leave their work of maintenance just long enough to attend. Immediately afterwards they are hard at it again, checking, adjusting and rechecking the motors of the Spitfires.

To Carry Letter To Stalin From U.S. President

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today that Joseph E. Davies would leave almost at once for Moscow to carry a personal letter from the President to Joseph Stalin.

The President fended off all attempts of reporters at a press conference to gain information on the contents or on whether Davies would bring back a reply. He said Davies, former ambassador to Russia, does not know himself what is in the letter.

There have been conjectures that the President might propose a meeting with the Russian leader similar to that he has held with Prime Minister Churchill.

Mr. Roosevelt told the reporters, however, that their guesses always had been wrong in the past.

Davies will not be gone very long and will come right back, Mr. Roosevelt said. He said he assumed his personal envoy would learn the contents of the document in Moscow, discuss them, and then return.

The President said nobody had seen the letter except himself and his personal secretary, Miss Grace Tully.

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—The navy has announced that survivors of a medium-sized United States merchant ship torpedoed and sunk in the North Atlantic in mid-February have arrived in New York City.

There shall come from out this noise of strife and groaning,
A broader and a juster brotherhood;
A deep equality of aim, postponing
All selfish seeking to the general good.
There shall come a time, when each shall to another
Be as Christ would have him
brother unto brother.
There shall come a time when brotherhood grows stronger
Than the narrow bounds which now distract the world,
When the cannons roar and trumpets blare no longer,
And the ironclads rust, and battleflags are furled;
When the bars of creed and speech
and race, which sever,
Shall be fused in one humanity forever.

—Sir Lewis Morris.

FOUR THINGS

Four things a man must learn to do
If he would make his record true:
To think without confusion clearly;
To love his fellow-men sincerely;
To act from honest motives purely;
To trust in God and Heaven securely.

—Henry Van Dyke.

Fear and lack of faith go hand in hand. The one is born of the other. Tell me how much one is given to fear, and I will tell you how much he lacks in faith.—Thomas J. Kirkwood.

Eight Hundred Attend Annual Firemen's Ball

The Firemen's Ball was an outstanding social event held last night at the Empress Hotel. Attended by some 850 guests, the evening was a complete success, and reflects great credit on the work of the committee in charge.

An artistic backdrop depicting the familiar stone bridge at Beacon [illegible] ranged in the ballroom. In front of this the orchestra dispensed scintillating and catchy tunes for the pleasure of the many guests, who also enjoyed the songs given by Dolly Rutledge and Cyril Pecknold, while Mike Andrews and his violin added to the enjoyment of the programme.

Hon. John Hart and Mrs. Alec Munroe led the grand march, and were followed by Fire Chief Alec Munroe and Mrs. John Hart, while others taking part in the grand march included Alderman Archie Wills, Alderman Davies, Alderman D. D. McTavish, Assistant Fire Chief J. A. Raymond and Assistant Fire Chief R. Taylor.

"Am I the only girl you've ever kissed?" demanded the pert young girl.

"Well—er—no," blurted her latest find "but—"

"Then buzz off," was the reply. "If you know the course and that's your top form, I'm not playing."

At a local concert for the troops, an amateur soprano "obliged." She sang a song in the Italian method, that is, she wobbled and warbled all over the notes.

At the finish there was a short silence, broken by one or two handclaps, then a husky voice came from the back seats:

"Now give us the 'All Clear,' missus!"

Her Majesty Wears Made-Overs From "Cross-Canada" Wardrobe

By THELMA CRAIG

Her Majesty the Queen is going to wear made-overs this year, too. No doubt you noticed the other day an item from London stating that Queen Elizabeth had asked the famous designer, Norman Hartnell, who fashioned the lovely things she wore in Canada in 1939, to see what could be done by way of remodelling her "cross-Canada" wardrobe.

(Hundreds of thousands of Canadians will remember those beautiful costumes of pale blue, dusty rose and dove grey, which our gracious Queen wore. They will remember how simply they were fashioned and how exquisite they were in line, in style, in material. New garments from old—that is what is going to happen to various of these costumes).

And now word comes of the practical way in which the Queen is solving the millinery problem of the Princesses. An old turquoise velvet party frock which Princess Elizabeth had long outgrown made the attractive little berets the Princesses wore during the Winter.

And when Princess Elizabeth recently had a suit tailored, the remaining oddments of material were fashioned into a trim, peaked cap, finished with matching ribbon and bow. Princess Margaret's tailleur was completed similarly with what she calls "my navy hat," an off-the-face style something like the W.R.N.S. caps.

Almost every household has a few scraps of material that could be used for a new beret or an off-the-face bonnet for young daughter. Every household in Canada will be proud to follow the example of the Royal family in making materials go as far as possible. Every scrap of leftover and old material that is utilized for civilian wear means more uniforms for a greater fighting force.

More uniforms are needed every day to outfit new recruits and to replace worn-out uniforms. Since the beginning of September, 1939, the Canadian mills have produced, cut up and fashioned into uniforms for the services 50,000 miles of cloth. This is fourteen times the distance between Halifax and Victoria. This is one of the reasons why the Consumer Branch, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, continues to appeal to all Canadian women "to make over and make do to save buying new."

Canadian Women Staff Officers Make History; Are Now Equal to Men

OTTAWA, May 7 (CP).—For the first time in the history of any army, Canadian women now are staff officers on an equal footing with men, Defence Headquarters announced today. After qualification in Canadian and British schools, eleven Ca[illegible] officers are to assume those duties immediately.

The first group includes Lt.-Col. Joan B. Kennedy, of Victoria, formerly officer administering the C.W.A.C. and more recently C.W.A.C. director, who has been appointed general staff officer (first grade) in charge of training, at Defence Headquarters. Colonel Kennedy now is in England attending the senior officers' course of the Auxiliary Territorial Service and will return to Canada soon.

CANADIANS PROMOTED

Major Margaret Eaton, of Montreal and Toronto, and Major Mary Dover, of Calgary, recently returned from overseas, are promoted to lieutenant-colonel. Colonel Eaton becomes an assistant adjutant-general at Defence Headquarters and Colonel Dover assumes command of the largest women's training centre in Canada—No. 3 C.W.A.C. (Basic) Training Centre at Kitchener, Ont.

The C.W.A.C. directorate in the adjutant-general's branch is being discontinued and the posts of general staff officer (first grade) and assistant adjutant-general have been created.

"It is probable that corresponding grades in the quartermaster-general and master-general of the ordnance branches will follow. Each will have appropriate junior staff officers and sub-staff," said a headquarters statement.

WOMEN IN FULL CONTROL

Under these changes, women will be directing the women's army organization in every detail—"training, housing, morale, etc."

Today's announcement related mainly to the postings and promotions of twelve C.W.A.C. officers recently returned to Canada following a three months' course with the Auxiliary Territorial Service in England.

It also announced the new post for Colonel Kennedy and one transfer in Canada. This transfer is the posting of Captain D. I. Royal, of Winnipeg, formerly commandant of the Cadet Wing at No. 1 C.W.A.C. (Basic) Training Centre at Vermilion, Alta., with rank of major.

BACK FROM OVERSEAS

Besides Colonel Dover and Colonel Eston, the nine officers returned from overseas are:

Captain R. M. Hawes, Vancouver, formerly acting commandant of No. 2 C.W.A.C. (Basic) Training Centre at Vermilion, is promoted to major and posted as officer commanding No. 1 C.W.A.C. (Advanced) Training Centre at Macdonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Que.

Captain B. A. L. Weston, Vancouver, formerly acting officer commanding No. 3 (Basic) Training Centre at Kitchener, Ont., is posted to command a C.W.A.C. company in Military District No. 1 (London, Ont.) with rank of major.

Captain P. M. Curtis, New Westminster, B.C., formerly attached to the master-general of the ordnance branch in Ottawa, returns to Defence Headquarters for duty with the judge advocate-general.

Lieut. J. M. Wilson, Winnipeg, formerly acting company commander at Winnipeg, returns as company commander with rank of captain.

Lieut. E. Watkinson, of Saskatoon, a platoon commander in Saskatchewan before going overseas, returns to M.D. 12 (Regina) as a company commander with rank of captain.

Lieut. N. K. Hewett, of Victoria, a platoon officer at Gordon Head, B.C., is posted as a company commander at Pacific Command, with rank of captain.

Shaw, convener of the league's official organ, spoke of the demand for more magazines, and the prominence given to the Diocese of Victoria in the last issue of the Canadian League Magazine.

APPOINT DEPUTY CONVENERS

It was suggested by Miss Clay that the various conveners of standing committees should have the assistance of a deputy and the suggestion was acted upon as follows: Study clubs, Miss M. On Sunday, Mother's Day, following the 9.30 Mass in St. Andrew's Cathedral, a communion breakfast will be held by the C.W.L. and their friends, at Loretto Hall.

Essen Families Decide to Move

STOCKHOLM, May 7 (CP).—Thousands of families in Essen have decided to move to other parts of Germany with all their remaining belongings as the result of the latest R.A.F. raids on the armaments centre, it was disclosed in a copy of The Essener National Zeitung which reached here today.

The R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. have dropped more than 10,000 tons of bombs on and near the Krupp Works at Essen, now the "most-bombed city in the world."

Lack of transport and a shortage of hands to pack furniture have caused such bottlenecks, the newspaper added, that it will require 140 days to move those whose applications already are no file.

Drastic Changes

Vast quantities of small arms ammunition, explosives, rifles and Bren guns and commercial vehicles have flowed from Canadian factories since the country's wartime industrial programme was organized.

It is understood that such huge reserves have been built up in some lines that it is possible to discontinue production and turn to the manufacture of other essential requirements. Changing strategical needs in some cases have dictated changes in output.

Munitions Minister Howe announced some weeks ago that, owing to "the changing strategy of war," there would be no further production of tanks in the Angus shops in Montreal. The shops had been turning out Valentine tanks, many of which were sent to Russia.

He said the full capacity of the plant would be used in connection with the escort shipbuilding programme.

Intensified U-boat warfare against Allied shipping in the Atlantic lifeline and elsewhere has heightened the need for more escort ships.

Airplane production in the Dominion now is concentrated on nine types, excluding the Hurricane fighter, production of which will shortly be discontinued.

Plate Sales Will Help Buy Clothes For Dutch Babies

Plates commemorating the birth in Canada of Princess Margriet Francisca of Holland will be sold to raise funds for the purchase of clothes for Netherlands babies after the war. W. J. M. Watson-Armstrong, consul for the Netherlands in British Columbia and the Yukon, made the announcement on his arrival here yesterday to arrange for the distribution of the plates.

British Columbia's quota of 200 plates has almost been disposed of, with thirty plates being assigned to Vancouver Island.

Work of refugee artists, the plates were made in New York. It marks the first time in many centuries that plates commemorating the birth of a member of the Netherlands Royal family have not been made in the homeland, Mr. Watson-Armstrong stated.

the Black Sea by the fleet's air arm. This occurred during an attack on an enemy-occupied port, presumably Novorossisk, the announcement said.

The Russians were reported already to have isolated Axis forces in the north from those at Novorossisk, and the midnight communique said one Soviet unit killed 700 Germans today.

Aside from the violent Caucasian struggle the communique disclosed an interesting development in a long dormant front—the Velikie Luki sector 270 miles west and slightly north of Moscow.

There the Russians were said to have seized several inhabited localities southwest of Velikie Luki in a drive which could be another effort to permanently sever the Vitebsk-Leningrad rail line which connects Axis troops in Central and Northern Russia.

Axis prisoners and material were captured in this thrust 125 miles northwest of Smolensk, the Axis central front anchor.

AERIAL STRIKING POWER GROWING

Finnish dispatches told of the growing striking power of the Red Air Force which Thursday night beat at the Finnish port of Notka every five minutes for more than an hour.

One hundred bombs were dropped, and although the Finns claimed there was no damage the Helsinki dispatch added: "Soviet air activity never has been so lively as now."

The Finnish press published reports that thousands of planes had been sent to Russia from the United States.

Notka is one of the main points through which German troops and supplies reach Finland, and Stockholm dispatches linked the Russian air attacks with unconfirmed reports that the Germans are planning a new drive against Leningrad.

The German Command, which Moscow said already has lost more than 10,000 troops before the Russian Caucasian drive, was reported still pushing reserves of foot soldiers and tanks into the land front before Novorossisk.

Company Indicted

WASHINGTON, May 7 (CP).—Attorney-General Francis Biddle announced today that the National Bronze and Aluminum Foundry Company and seven of its top officials had been indicted at Cleveland, Ohio, on charges of violating the sabotage law and conspiring to defraud the United States Government.

Biddle said the charges were based upon allegations that the defendants had conspired with twenty-one company employees—named as co-conspirators—and with others to supply the Packard Motor Car Company with defectively cast aluminum superchargers for Rolls-Royce airplane engines being made for the United States and British Governments.

P.E.O. Sisterhood Sends Troops Two Clubmobiles

P.E.O. Sisterhood, an international sorority, has completed through all its chapters in the United States and Canada to form a P.E.O. United Victory Fund.

The first purchases from this effort—which, according to Mrs. P. B. Scurrah, corresponding secretary, will continue as long as the war lasts and will include any needful contribution for any of the Allied countries—were two clubmobiles.

The president, Mrs. J. W. Walker, of Helena, Montana, who was elected to presidency during Supreme Chapter convention in session in Victoria at the international convention in 1941, has written Mrs. Scurrah: "We have completed the purchase of two clubmobiles, we now have two going into service in Africa at once. They are being purchased in England to save on shipping space and danger of loss."

SIMILAR TO MOBILE CANTEENS

The clubmobiles, originating in England, closely resemble the mobile canteen used by Red Cross chapters on this continent.

In the forepart a small kitchen is equipped with coffee urns and a doughnut machine, with the remainder of the space in the vehicle used for transporting recreational supplies.

The clubmobiles are sufficiently large to carry a moving picture machine with latest films, a circulating library, magazines, newspapers and a phonograph with records, various games and writing material. Also loud speakers and cooking equipment. The cabins have bunks which may be used by the crew as sleeping quarters on over-night trips.

These vehicles have been so designed and constructed as to enable them to be dismantled on short notice and turned into field ambulances should the necessity arise. Many of the newer clubmobiles carry their own power, thus making the motion picture projector an important part of the plan.

The clubmobile is staffed by three Red Cross girls, who are trained by the Red Cross in motor mechanics, as well as in recreational activities.

The thought that stimulated the programme was the inability of the boys in the front lines to reach the P.E.O. canteens in larger cities. The army, according to P.E.O. members, has spoken very highly of this service, and feels that it is helping the morale of the fighting men when doing duty at far away points.

Depending upon the type of vehicle used and the amount of equipment placed within, the prices of the clubmobiles range from $2,000 to $7,000. They are being operated in England, Africa and Australia.

Little Theatre Gives Comedy

The Victoria Little Theatre presented Ivor Novello's sparkling comedy, "Fresh Fields," last night before a large audience. It will be presented again tonight.

It was an old story of an impoverished noblewoman trying to replenish the family fortune with a marriageable sister, an eligible son and a fine old house as bait. A rich but most unsophisticated family arrive from the colonies and on the strength of having known the lady's late husband become paying guests. Awkward but humorous situations develop till at the end the genuineness beneath the rough surface is discovered and wedding bells ring.

Edith Gibson, as Mrs. Pidgeon the good-natured bugleys Australian, was reminiscent of Barrie. H. J. Davis was a perfect butler, and Margaret Hincks, as the impoverished noblewoman, Lady Mary, gave a splendid performance. Elizabeth Smith, the temperamental sister; Alice Oldfield, the ingenue; Joan Oldfield, the admirable secretary; R. Jervis-Read, the lady's son; and Brian Burke, the hearty young man from the colonies, were well chosen for their roles, and proved to be fine actors.

Mrs. Alan Stevenson filled the role of Lady Strawholme like a good trouper with only forty-eight hours' notice; she took the place of an actress who had been taken ill.

Stewart G. Clark was director; Le

Ship Sponsors at West Coast Launchings

Seventeen-year-old Evelyn Patterson, shipwright's helper, is pictured left, seconds before she smashed the traditional bottle of champagne on the bow of the Yoho Park, 10,000 ton freighter launched in a West Coast shipyard this week. The former Winnipeg girl was named for the honor by Bill McKenzie, a shipwright, who drew the ticket giving him the privilege of naming the sponsor. Mrs. W. G. Wilson, wife of Dr. W. G. Wilson, former minister of the First United Church here, is seen right, about to christen H.M.C.S. New Glasgow, a sleek warcraft which slid down the ways of another West Coast yard simultaneously with the launching of the freighter.

after explosions and fires occurred in fuel dumps and dispersal areas.

The Japanese set up a heavy curtain of anti-aircraft fire but sent up no planes to intercept.

In the area of Mubo, twelve miles south of Salamaua, attack planes continued their daily task of sweeping back and forth over Japanese ground troops. The enemy's situation in that section has worsened as a result of capture by the Allies of a village only five miles southwest of Salamaua.

On the Juon Peninsula north of Salamaua, three big reconnaissance units bombed the Finschhafen area.

Heavy bombers joined in the raid on Madang, the heaviest ever directed at that base above the hard-pressed Japanese holdings at La Eta Daalamaua. The raid surpassed in its intensity one made by medium bombers and long-range fighters on April 10.

Australian-manned flying boats were sent against Babo.

The Babo raid was made by night but the Madang attack was a daylight undertaking.

Medium bombers formed the raiding group against Kupang.

Three-Year-Old Boy Suffers Broken Leg

Struck by a motor car when he allegedly ran from behind a parked vehicle at 2719 Fernwood Road, Andrew Rowland, three-year-old son of Mrs. Anne Rowland, suffered a broken left leg, city police reported after the boy was taken to the Jubilee Hospital at 3.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The car by which young Rowland was struck was driven by Thomas Quayle, R.M.D. No. 4, who immediately notified the police. Quayle stated he did not see the child at all until it appeared to dart from behind a parked car. There were no other witnesses. The injured boy was attended by Dr. J. M. Fowler.

New Grant Made

EDMONTON, May 7 (CP).—A new grant of $3,500 to the University of Alberta's Department of Extension has been made by the Rockefeller Foundation and will allow the university to launch what will be known as the Alberta Folk Lore and Local History project, University President Dr. Robert Newton announced tonight.

Dr. Newton said that through the grant, the University of Alberta would obtain the services for one year of Professor Robert E. Gard. For the past three years Prof. Gard has been engaged in New York on a project similar to the one to be started in Alberta.

"Dina Cashman"

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

CHAPTER XXIII

Fortunately for her, the man on her right assumed immediate control of the conversation. He was an impeccably handsome and well-groomed person of perhaps fifty, whose life was spent on the polo field, at the bridge table, at formal dinners, on the golf course or tennis courts, at Palm Beach or at Easthampton as the season indicated.

He knew a great many famous persons in society, in New York's literary and dramatic circle, and in Hollywood, and he had a great many delightful anecdotes of them to relate—all of them flattering, kindly innocuous.

Dina need feed him only the compliment of her bright-eyed interest and an occasional "Oh, tell me about her!" to keep him content and avoid any of the silences she so dreaded. He was rapturously describing the dove shooting at Pasa Robles when the woman on his other side suddenly engrossed him by the simple method of saying: "Reggie, stop talking to Miss Cashman and pay some attention to me. After all, you and I were compromised once, at Violet's, remember? Remember how awful that was? That ought to give me some rights!"

Reggie almost instantly obeying this command, Dina found herself for a moment ignored; she leaned back in her enormous chair, surveyed the brilliant scene, and told herself that she could serve Rogers' purpose just as well as in any other way. He had not asked her to make any of them like her.

"Are you trying to think of something to say? I am," said the man at her left. Dina turned with a quick smile and found him to be Andrew Havens, the bridegroom who was the quite unconscious cause of her being here at all.

"Well, I wasn't," she said; "but if you can't, I could try."

He laughed, and they brought their heads a little nearer.

"I'm really very shy," he confessed, "and I know the cure for it, too."

"I wish I did!" Dina said.

"I never get up courage to use it," the man continued. "It's just to get on top of itself, if you know what I mean. Just to say, 'Oh, heck, everyone's shy and someone has to talk!' Then you just rattle along saying everything that comes into your head, and that starts the others and the first thing you know they think you are a social asset."

"And what's that?" Dina asked, liking him at once.

"A social asset? A person everybody likes and invites places. Just from what I hear I should think that man on your other side was one."

Mr. Tregoury? He might well be."

"Then you don't know him?"

"I've never met any of these people until tonight. Except Mr. Holland, of course."

"You haven't? And I thought you knew them all and all the fathers and mothers knew yours."

"Oh, no!" Dina was conscious of a little inward shiver as she reflected upon the impression that should it suddenly be introduced into this stately dining-room.

"I knew my wife didn't know you, for she took me aside before dinner and cross-examined me," Andrew Havens said simply. "She told me to find out all about you."

"You wouldn't find it very interesting," Dina told him. "Isn't she beautiful?" she asked, glancing down the table to look at Aline, exquisitely posed in a high-backed chair beside Rogers.

"Yes," the husband said, his eyes filled with adoration. "She is the most beautiful woman I've ever seen. And the lovely part of it," he went on, "that inside, in her nature, in her heart, she is just as beautiful. Sweetness—you never saw anything like it! Servants adore her; she'll stop in the street to speak to some poor little waif of a child. She's had very little happiness in her life," he went on, his eyes shining, "and—and we're very happy now," he finished shyly.

"I think Mr. Holland said you are staying at a place at Los Altos?"

"Back in the hills, yes; it's a friend's place. He's in the East. It's nearly up to the Skyline Boulevard. It was a farmhouse and barns when he took it; he's not done much to it. But now that the place has a mistress," Andrew said, his face glowing with anticipation, "we are going to do great things, build a terrace and have a grill—so that we can have our friends there."

"It sounds lovely," Dina commented, anxious only to keep the conversation flowing smoothly and avoid pitfalls.

"It's pretty rough now, especially for anyone like Aline," he explained apologetically. "She's always had a maid, you know. I get breakfasts," went on Andrew, "and carry her tray, and we picnic. We've only been home four days, but we'll get it all licked into shape pretty soon."

"You two are having much too nice a time," Aline said suddenly behind them and leaned over Andrew's shoulder to kiss the top of his head and lay her cheek against his temple for a second. "I had to come up here and ask you if you still loved me!"

"Aline, for heaven's sake, cut all this bridal-suite stuff!" a woman said.

"You're a complete idiot," Andrew said. He got up to escort her back to her place, and she looked about the company with her eloquent dove-blue eyes and said defiantly, "I don't care; he's the nicest person alive!"

When he came back to his seat, Dina was talking with, or rather listening to, the agreeable and courteous Reggie.

Legion Active On Behalf of Overseas Men

R. Macnicol Tells Of Work in Britain

The story of the work being done for Canadian soldiers in Great Britain by the Canadian Legion was graphically depicted yesterday by Robert Macnicol, executive secretary of the British Columbia Command of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L. at two meetings addressed by him during his visit to Victoria.

Mr. Macnicol, who has just returned after spending eighteen months overseas as manager of Canadian Legion War Services for Britain, spoke to a large gathering of the women's auxiliaries yesterday afternoon, and in the evening was the speaker at a combined meeting of all local branches in the auditorium of the Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion, over 400 being present.

Canadian Legion War Services, he said, were doing a very fine job for Canadians overseas; they operated three hostels in London alone, where 650 Canadians could be accommodated nightly, receiving bed and meals. Troops were entertained by sixteen concert groups working every night, in co-operation with Y.M.C.A., Salvation Army and Knights of Columbus, while recreation huts and canteens were doing their share both in the Old Country and at home.

B.C. CANTEEN HELPS DIEPPE RAIDERS

The mobile canteen donated by the Women's Auxiliaries of British Columbia, was in use after the Dieppe raid, receiving the boys who returned from that tough job. Bundles for Britain were a god-send to the thousands who suffered during the blitz, which had killed over 43,000 civilians by the end of 1941.

Commenting on marriages overseas, Mr. Macnicol reported that over 7,000 Canadians had married by last December, and the number had greatly increased since, adding, "I think most of these marriages will turn out well." The Canadian Government has offered to bring the wives back to Canada free of charge.

Speaking of the growth of Canadian armaments, Mr. Macnicol said that the R.C.A.F. had grown from a body of 4,000 men to 200,000, and the merchant marine, which had been practically non-existent in 1939, now numbered 38,000.

MERCHANT MARINE DESERVE PRIVILEGES

The gallant men of the merchant marine should be granted all the privileges now given those serving in the army, the navy, and the air force, even though they are civilians, for they worked under extremely difficult and dangerous conditions, he stated, in recounting a crossing he made with one of the largest convoys ever to leave these shores.

The Women's Auxiliaries would be glad to know that there were now 24,500 women in uniform, and this number was rapidly increasing.

Discussing social security, Mr. Macnicol said that Russia was far more advanced than Canada, the United States or Australia, and that the legion could do much to help the younger fighting generation to bring about better conditions after the war.

Experience had taught that plenty of money could be found for war, but little to win the peace, and our gravest danger was that when the war ended, people would forget all about their common interests and revert to a system of greed and every man for himself.

The legion was "the watch-dog of the people who fight the battles of Canada and the Empire," he declared. They were a national organization with Dominion command in Ottawa, and nine provincial commands. "We have 1,200 men's branches in Canada and 450 women's auxiliaries. In the United States we have 130 men's branches and eighty-six auxiliaries."

"The people at home in Canada are the trustees of Canada's fighting generation that we have encouraged to enlist in our armies," he concluded, and it was up to us to keep alive the ideas of a new deal for the future, to convince our armed forces that Canada was a country worth fighting for and worth living in."

BRITANNIA BRANCH PUBLISH RESOLUTION

At a general meeting of the legion held Tuesday night, discussion led to the passing of the following resolution:

"That Britannia Branch, No. 7, Canadian Legion, in general meeting assembled, regrets publication of a resolution submitted by a Vancouver organization requesting the deportation of the Chinese people to their own country, at the conclusion of hostilities, and that it be further resolved, this resolution be communicated to the press."

Aged Pensioners Hold Meeting on First Anniversary

The Aged Pensioners held a general meeting last night in the Baptist Church, on the occasion of the first anniversary of their charter.

Archdeacon R. Connell gave an address on "Memories," and Mrs. Ross an interesting talk on citizenship.

Musical numbers were contributed by Mr. Craven, solo; Mr. Crisford, two vocal selections; Mr. Spouse, song, accompanied by Mrs. Dale.

Refreshments were served, during which Mr. White played some fine violin numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Graham.

COSTLY BLAZE

CHILLIWACK, May 7 (CP).—The burning of a log jam on the Vedder River a short time ago will cost the province and township $4,000 to make good riverbank protection which the old log jam provided.

In Favor of Increase

At a meeting of the Malahat Branch of the Canadian Legion on Tuesday evening at Cobble Hill, with the president, J. A. Whan, presiding, it was voted to recommend an increase in civilian old age pensions, and to urge the Government to remove the restrictions on property held by pensioners. A resolution was passed asking the Government that the Department of Pensions and National Health establish a military hospital in the City of Victoria.

Also discussed was the Dominion Command's memorandum referring to veterans discharged from the armed forces, and suggestions for rehabilitation. These matters were referred to a committee of members of the branch and the W.A. and will be brought up again at the next meeting. A donation was voted to the Solarium.

FLYERS CAPTURE SECOND GAME OF SERIES, 63-50

Glancing Over Sport—

By JOE DELAHUNTY

SERIES SHOULD END TONIGHT

Victoria Flyers kept right on flying towards their first Canadian men's senior basketball crown last night at the V.A.C. gymnasium. Tonight on the same court Norm Baker and company should finish off the youngsters from far away Windsor by making it three straight; they have the drive and class to do it and the general opinion around the cage battlefront is that they will. Baker wasn't sizzling like he was in the opener but he was "hot" enough to drive through the Easterners' defence for twenty-one points to lead the scoring brigade for the evening. That makes his total for the two games fifty-eight, not bad for eighty minutes of play. Norm was shaken up early in last night's battle and went to the bench for a rest, but he was rushed back into the fray as Windsor was closing the gap and the R.C.A.F. machine started to hit on all-cylinders once more. Ralph Pay had his shooting eye with him also and found the hoop for eighteen digits. In the last quarter the Flyers staged a terrific offensive and when they ceased firing they had boomed through for twenty-six points in ten minutes. They were going at full speed when the gong sounded while Windsor was tiring under the pace, and no wonder.

Yes, Mr. and Mrs. Phan, the series will be all over tonight and the Flyers will take over where the Dominoes left off last year in Montreal. If that happens, it will be the city's fifth national title since 1938.

FROM HERE AND THERE

Windsor's Patricks basketball team which is on the Coast battling Victoria for the national title had their trip from the Ontario city financed by the Vancouver Victory Loan committee, according to reports. . . . When Count Fleet was in Louisville waiting for the bugle to call him postward for the Kentucky Derby purse he was guarded day and night and was so screened from passersby that he couldn't even be seen unless two locked doors were opened by Trainer Don Cameron. . . . Twice during his big league baseball career, Arky Vaughan, shortstop for "Dem Bums" in Brooklyn, has hit for the cycle during a single game. In other words he has connected for a single, double, triple and a homer, and there are very few ball players can boast of that record. . . . Bill Lemin, former senior oarsman for the J.B.A.A. and well known in other athletic circles several years ago, is in the city on a business trip from the northern part of the province. . . . Lieut. Tony Hope, who played a lot of soccer here before going overseas, has added another medal to his collection, being a member of the Scottish eleven which reached the divisional final in England, only to be beaten by the Seaforths. I don't know what the winners received but the losers received gold medals for their efforts. Tony is getting along fine and wants to be remembered to all his old friends in athletic circles.

Pitcher Lynn, of Los Angeles, is leading the Coast League hurlers with a perfect record so far, five victories without a reverse. His latest triumph was a 4-0 one-hit decision over Seattle Rainiers yesterday in the Sound City.

ODDS AND ENDS

New York Yankees are off down the same old trail as last year in the American League. Setting the early pace is nothing new to Manhattan ball players, and it looks as if Manager Joe McCarthy's early Spring warning to the other clubs is going to hold firm . . . In answer to a query from an ardent sports fan: Neither Lynn or Murray Patrick ever played Canadian football for the Winnipeg Blue Bombers. Both wore the gridiron paraphernalia for Montreal before turning to professional hockey, and previous to leaving this city they performed for Victoria in the Big Four League. Only two Victorians played football on the Prairies, and they were Paul Howe and Jack Ferguson, who were with the Calgary Bronks . . . Remember when: A stocky blond-haired golfer hitch-hiked his way to Pebble Beach, Cal., to play in the United States national amateur, by the name of Johnny Goodman, from Omaha? That was in 1928, and he startled the golfing world by eliminating the famous Bobby Jones in the first round of match play by winning the decision on the final green. A few years later Goodman captured the United States open crown, and then in 1937 he headed for Portland and picked up the national amateur title by defeating Ray Billows in the final before a gallery of some 6,000. Your humble scribe was amongst the mob that day on the Alderwood course, just one of the seventy-eight newspapermen on deck . . . It will be the same old headline when the Preakness finishes today at the Pimlico track: "The Fleet's in Again" . . . Alan Strange and Hal Spindel, two former Rainiers, are now rival managers in Seattle. Both are bossing shipyard ball clubs, and they must be getting good pay cheques, for Strange turned down an offer to return to St. Louis Browns, and Spindel turned back another bid from Toledo in the American Association . . . Do you know that Walter Lindrum, world's champion billiard player, use to train eight hours daily behind closed doors?

Count Fleet Top-Heavy Choice To Capture the Preakness

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE, May 7 (AP).—Four three-year-olds got up enough nerve today to elect to run against Count Fleet in the fifty-third Preakness tomorrow—and in the case of at least one of them, it took even more imagination than nerve.

This one is a little thing called Radio Morale, and off his form he's strictly the "short wave" gee-gee in this field of five which will take off at 1.30 p.m. C.D.T., tomorrow in the mile and three-sixteenths scramble over old Pimlico's racing strip.

For, while Count Fleet has been rated by some the "greatest since Man o' War" since his Kentucky Derby victory a week ago, Radio Morale couldn't even come close running with a $1,750 price tag in a cheap claiming race a month ago. As a matter of fact, he was entered for $1,200 in the last race at Jamaica today.

With Radio Morale, the others named are the Count, Blue Swords, owned by Allen Simmons, W. L. Brann's Vincentive, and New Moon, from the barn of Henry L. Straus.

The Count figures to come home all by himself here tomorrow and pick up a pay cheque of $43,690. This would boost his earnings to $202,760—a good-sized bankroll for a horse whose owner, Mrs. John D. Hertz, of Chicago, once wanted to get rid of him for $4,500.

The best estimates are that if the Count is any better than 1 to 5, it will be like finding money.

BLUE SWORDS RATED SECOND

Blue Swords is rated second to the Count in the field of five. But the Vincentive rooters hereabouts see one point to write home about. That is the fact that their gladiator is being piloted by Georgie Woolf, of Cardston, Alta., "the iceman" who is regarded the top stake jockey in the business.

And the society feels, if Johnny Longden, from Taber, Alta., aboard the Count, makes any mistakes, Woolf might possibly steer the husky son of Challenger II up to the pay window.

NEW YORK, May 7 (AP).—The King Ranch's Radio Morale, surprise entry in tomorrow's running of the rich Preakness, finished sixth in a seven-horse field in the last race at Jamaica today and immediately was claimed out of the race by Isidore Bieber.

It could not be immediately determined definitely just what effect this would have on the maiden three-year-old's Preakness entry, but it seemed unlikely the colt would be shipped to Baltimore.

Under Maryland racing rules, the stake engagements of a horse who is sold or claimed may not be transferred without the permission in writing of the original owner, or his agent.

Quick Kayo For Henry

Armstrong Stops Jessup in First

BOSTON, May 7 (AP).—Before a glove could be laid on him, Henry Armstrong, of Los Angeles, the only triple-champion in ring history, knocked out Tommy Jessup, of Springfield, tonight with a terrific two-fisted attack to the head and body at the end of the first minute of their scheduled ten-round bout at the Boston Garden.

Armstrong, who weighed 140 two pounds more than Jessup, stalked his rival for about fifteen seconds and then sprang at him.

The force of Hammerin' Henry's rush swept Jessup against the ropes and before he could get away from them, he took a long series of heavy left and right hooks to the head and body.

After staggering along the ropes for about a second, Jessup took murderous lefts and rights to the head, and dropped face down for the count of eight.

When Jessup pulled himself to his feet, in his own corner, Armstrong coolly measured him with a long series of hooks and the Springfield negro dropped again.

Thereupon Referee Johnny Martin awarded Armstrong his knockout verdict without bothering to count over the helpless Jessup, who, at twenty-one, is ten years the younger.

While chalking up the twentieth victory of his comeback campaign, Armstrong was magnificent. Not one of the fifty or sixty blows he launched during the sixty seconds missed their intended marks.

A crowd of 9,976 saw the fight.

Brooklyn Rallies To Beat Boston

Dodgers Hard Pressed by Braves—Rookies Win Game for Yankees

NATIONAL LEAGUE

A five-run attack in the second inning sent Brooklyn Dodgers off to a flying start in their initial game of the season with Boston Braves, but before they achieved a 9-7 victory the National League leaders had to come from behind.

Al Javery was the victim of the big second frame, climaxed by Augie Galan's three-run homer. But then he settled down and blanked the Dodgers until the seventh inning. Meantime, the Braves kept punching away at Ed Head and Les Webber until they held a 7-5 margin going into the seventh. Eddie Joost accounted for two of the tallies with a homer in the fourth.

Johnny Allen took over the Brooklyn hurling in the seventh after the Dodgers had knotted the count and blanked the Braves the remainder of the distance for this third victory of the season—all in relief roles.

Fireman Joe Beggs came to the rescue of Johnny Vander-Meer in the first half of the ninth inning to allow Cincinnati Reds to squeeze out a 3-4 National League triumph over Chicago Cubs.

With two out and Cub runners on first and second, Manager Bill McKechnie retired his star left hander and inserted Beggs, who caused Ed Stanky to force Stan Hack at second and end a threat after one run had crossed the plate.

The Reds went to work on Dick Barrett in their half of the first inning for two runs and added another in the third when Linus Frey, Cincinnati second baseman, rifled a triple and scampered home on Eddie Miller's single.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Paced by a pair of their farm graduates, Charley Wensloff and Bill Johnson, New York Yankees blasted out a 6-2 decision over Philadelphia Athletics yesterday to maintain their position at the head of the American League parade.

Wensloff, who won twenty-one games for Kansas City in the American Association last year, hurled six-hit ball, and with Johnson, up from Newark, connecting with his first major league homer and driving in a total of four runs, the twenty-six-year-old Californian had no trouble winning his initial big time victory.

Johnson drove out a three-run homer in the third, climaxing a four-run attack, and sent another tally across the plate in the seventh with a single after Nick Etten had led off with a triple. In between he got a double.

A long fly double by Shortstop Luke Appling with one out in the tenth inning broke up an overtime hurlers' duel between Johnny Humphries and Hal White and gave Chicago White Sox a 1-0 decision over Detroit Tigers in the opening game of their American League series.

Humphries scored the winning run himself after opening the overtime inning by drawing a walk and Outfielder Thurman Tucker sacrificed.

With unfavorable weather conditions a contributing factor, only 513 fans paid to see the game, the smallest crowd in Chicago in years.

30,000 Expected To Watch Game In England Today

LONDON, May 7 (AP). — A crowd of more than 30,000, the majority of them civilians, are expected to witness tomorrow the first public exhibition of American football in Great Britain during this war. Proceeds of the contest, between two United States Army teams, will go to the prisoners war fund of the British Red Cross. The opponents will be the "Fighting Irish" (Engineers) and the "Crimson Tide" (Field Artillery).

Four thousand top-price $2 reserved seats were sold a week in advance, indicating surprising interest in soccer-conscious Britons in this "heavy armored" American sport.

Two Inter-City Soccer Matches Are Carded Today at Macdonald Park

Flt. Lt. Dunn, manager of the R.A.F., stated last night that the team will be practically the same as that which eliminated the V.M.D., city champions, last week in overtime. The Royal Air Force squad will be chosen from: Cockroft, Cunningham, Witham, Stevens, Houston, Boulter, Cox, Harthill, Craig, Parkinson, Potter, Huggins, Truscott and Martin. This afternoon on the James Bay field, Royals, Vancouver Island juvenile champions, will oppose Hastings Bluebirds in the provincial final at 2:30 o'clock. Fred Tooby will referee.

Baker and Pay in Shooting Form Against Windsor

Former Nets Twenty-One Points and Latter Eighteen—Play Tonight

VANCOUVER, May 7 (CP).—Victoria R.C.A.F. rattled twenty-six points through the hoop in the fourth quarter to defeat Windsor Ont. Patricks 63-50 here tonight in the second game of the Canadian men's senior basketball finals. The Western champions won the first game Wednesday, 58-48. The third game will be played Saturday.

The Victoria quintette were jittery momentarily in the last quarter as three airmen went off for personals and loss of another man would have meant playing one short. But the Western champions settled down and with some fine shooting by L.A.C. Ralph (Pop) Pay, won going away.

A crowd of about 800 fans saw a rough and hard-checking game. Four players were banished in the third quarter because they had collected four personal fouls and another was sent to the sidelines in the fourth.

FIVE PLAYERS RULED OFF

Windsor lost Guard Mort Bunnell and Centre Fred Thomas in the third while Victoria lost L.A.C. Bob Phelan and Ollie Goldsmith in the third and L.A.C. Ian McKeachie in the fourth.

The Eastern champions, probably remembering the Dominion record of thirty-seven points made by A.C.I. Norm Baker, of Victoria, in the first game of the series, watched the tall Victoria forward closely and gave him a rough ride but Baker again was high point-maker with twenty-one.

Other marksmen for the British Columbia titlists were Pay, who played an outstanding game to score eighteen points, Goldsmith, with ten, and A.C.I. Benny Landa, with five.

As in the first game, Windsor faded in the fourth quarter. The best of the Patricks were Forwards Don Hamilton and Bill Coulthard, who scored sixteen and eleven points respectively. Other Windsor scorers were Guard Mort Bunnell with seven, forward Gord Lawson with six and Centre Fred Thomas with five.

VICTORIA TAKES OVER THE LEAD

In the first quarter Norm Baker and Goldsmith did all the scoring for the airmen, each shooting two baskets and two free throws for twelve points. Windsor's nine points came on Hamilton's two baskets and a free shot, Bunnell's two free shots and Coulthard's basket. The airman took a 4-0 lead at the start and were never behind in the quarter.

In the second quarter the teams matched points until a flurry of Victoria baskets by Goldsmith, McKeachie and Norm Baker lifted the Western champions into a 24-12 lead. But in the last three minutes before half-time Windsor came back to cut the margin to 27-22, getting six points on free throws.

Sparked by Coulthard's three baskets, Windsor rallied in the third quarter to tie the count at 32-32 with three minutes to go. Victoria rubbed out the rally and went ahead 37-33 before Patricks surged back to finish the period trailing by one point at 37-36 on points by Coulthard, Hamilton and Durocher.

In the fourth quarter Victoria broke loose again and with Baker and Pay finding the basket often, jumped into a 50-42 lead. A great display of free-shot tossing by Lawson put Windsor back in contention at 52-48, the Patrick forward throwing five consecutive free throws through the hoop. Pay then put on a one-man show for the airmen, getting four baskets as Victoria rallied to go into a 63-50 lead as the game ended.

GRAPHIC GOLF

BY BEST BALL

UNCROWNED CHAMP

No less an authority than Tommy Armour once labeled MacDonald Smith's swing the sweetest stroke of them all, and the Silver Scot has seen champions come and go for many years. Essentially a stylist, Smith's stroke, at his peak of form, was seemingly without friction, the clubhead taken back in a full arc with an effortless pivot. So accurate, so grooved was his stroke that on brassie shots through the fairway he could send wood shots on their way and hardly disturb the grass on which the ball was resting.

Where other golfers might take up huge divots, Smith was a greenskeeper's delight. Fellow pros marveled at his technique and more than a few tried to emulate him. Uprooting the soil was contrary to Mac's nature; perhaps if he had been less sensitive to both the course and his competitors he might have won many an open championship. He came close on more than one occasion, but some little trick of fate always seemed to bob up when it came to actually winning the title. He was both the crowd's and the pros' favorite, more popular in defeat than many a golfer who won the crown.

Seals' Hurler Holds Seattle

(By The Associated Press)

A lone single, dropping just short of two racing outfielders, cheated Bob Joyce of a no-hit, no run pitching performance yesterday as San Francisco blanked Seattle, 4-0.

Only thirty men faced the Seal right-hander. Ed Carnett connected for the blooper single in the sixth.

Oakland scored a 5-4 victory over Sacramento in a fourteen-inning baseball clash that saw the deciding tally forced in a by a walk.

Outfielders Devincinzi and Bell singled and took third and second respectively on Caulfield's sacrifice. Bill Raimondi, catcher, was purposely walked, filling the bases. After Italo Chelini, third of the Oaks pitchers in the game, struck out, Emil Mailho walked, forcing in the winning run.

Los Angeles Angels trimmed Portland Beavers, 4-1, in the nightcap of a Coast League double-header, after nosing out the Beavers in the first game, 2-1.

Charley Schanz pitched San Diego to a 10-4 win over Hollywood, ending the Stars' winning streak in the present series at three games. He allowed but seven hits, while the Padres collected thirteen off four Hollywood hurlers.

"In whose reign do we first hear of railways, Mary?" asked the teacher.

"In Solomon's," promptly replied the child.

She was asked to think again, but persisted in her original statement, and the teacher then inquired why she thought so.

Hedlunds Triumph

Mainland Girls Defeat Winnipeg

VANCOUVER, May 7 (CP).—Vancouver Hedlunds defeated Winnipeg Altomahs 29-24 here tonight in the second game of the three-of-five Canadian women's senior basketball finals. Vancouver won the first game, 36-17. The third will be played Saturday.

The British Columbia champions, defending the title they won for the first time last year, started the game with a burst of scoring and their eight-point margin built up in the first quarter won the game for Hedlunds for they never were that far ahead again.

As in the first game, Altomahs showed good ball handling, but poor shooting. They rallied in the second quarter to outscore the champions, 9-3, and leave Vancouver with a narrow 15-13 margin at the half-time interval.

In the third quarter each team counted five points and Hedlunds went into the final frame with a 20-18 lead. The Vancouver girls, although unable to finish off their plays at the basket as well as in the first game, had a 9-6 margin in the last ten minutes.

Forward Joan MacArthur, of Vancouver, was the shot-making star with thirteen points. Guard Ruth Wilson dropped seven points through the baskets for Hedlunds and Centre Rita Panasis five.

The Winnipeg scoring was more evenly distributed through the line-up with Centre Fjola Campbell getting six, Guard Nellie Jones five, Guard Dorothy Brook and Eleanor Wallins each four.

Altomahs lost two players in the fourth quarter via the foul route. Both Guard Isabel Duncan and Jones got four personals before the game ended.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 7 (AP).—Harvard's announcement that it won't play intercollegiate football next Fall surprised exactly nobody hereabouts. And, as an old Princeton grad, we might comment: "It's not the first time—and we don't mean during the last war, either." . . . After playing a high school team at the end of Spring practice, maybe the Harvard boys decided they'd found their class and might as well stay in it.

SPRING PRACTICE

Report from the "Big Ten" is that Ohio State, Iowa and Indiana are the hardest hit by player losses so far. . . . Colleges in all sections have been reporting big sprint turnouts, but most of the boys just wanted to get themselves toughened up for military service.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Gene Sullivan, St. Joseph (Mo.) News-Press: "Leo Novikoff still is on the West Coast demanding more money before he will report to the Cubs, but practically nothing has been carried on the wires about him and Chicago papers mention the fact only casually. . . . After all, holding out in North Africa means something different from holding out in the National League."

Returning from their hockey school in Western Canada Eddie Shore and Art Chapman of the Buffalo Bisons report they uncovered a goalie who is almost a duplicate of Gordie (Shutout) Bell.

From Drama of North African War

A scene from the film "Immortal Sergeant" now showing at the Dominion Theatre. Henry Fonda and Maureen O'Hara are starred in this action-packed drama of the North African war with Thomas Mitchell and Reginald Gardiner heading the featured cast.

At the Theatres

DOMINION THEATRE Henry Fonda and Maureen O'Hara are starred in the stirring epic Libya, warfare, "Immortal Sergeant," now at the Dominion Theatre. An exceptional featured cast includes Thomas Mitchell, Allyn Joslyn and Reginald Gardiner. The picture was directed by John Stahl and produced by Lamar Trotti, who also wrote the screen play.

CAPITOL THEATRE If English-born Ronald Colman didn't have the starring lead opposite Greer Garson in "Random Harvest," which is now showing at the Capitol Theatre, he could have gotten a job as technical adviser on the picture. During one of the "takes," Colman suddenly called, "Hold it a second." Pointing to a London "bobby," Colman explained "That bobby is wearing an earlier style helmet than the period of this picture!" A check with the research department proved the star was right.

CADET THEATRE It has often been said the story behind the men who make our planes is one packed with as much drama as the story of the men who fly them. With this in mind, Warner Bros. have put two of its top-notch performers, Ann Sheridan and Dennis Morgan, in its thrilling production, "Wings for the Eagle," which ends tonight at the Cadet Theatre.

ATLAS THEATRE "White Cargo," a story of romanticism, mysticism, strurgle and conflict brings Hedy Lamarr to the screen as the dark-skinned native charmer of Leon Gordon's stage play, with Walter Pidgeon in the vital role of Witzel, two-fisted rubber plantation overseer who has the task of seeing that the white man triumphs. The picture, directed by Richard Thorpe, ends tonight at the Atlas Theatre.

YORK THEATRE A role coveted by every juvenile actress in Hollywood that of Mickey Rooney's youngest sister in "A Yank at Eton," fell to Juanita Quigley, former child start of pictures. The M.-G.-M. picture starring Rooney, ends tonight at the York Theatre. Juanita, now ten years old, is a veteran of seven years in the picture business. She first became known for outstanding performances in such pictures as "Page a Heart," "Born to Dance" and "Rhaff," the latter also with Rooney, then an unknown. Suddenly leaving her childhood behind, she recently was seen in "The Vanishing Virginian."

RIO THEATRE Trailing an automobile, the top of which had been painted white, from the M.-G.-M. studios to San Pedro Harbor, was an aerial thrill successfully accomplished in "Nick Carter, Master Detective," which ends tonight at the Rio Theatre, with Walter Pidgeon and Rita Johnson. The white top was supposedly a ruse of the master detective, tracking down an international spy ring.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES Music has been given a leading role in Universal's "He's My Guy," ending tonight at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres. Nine special selections are featured in the picture, which stars Joan Davis. Dick Foran and Irene Hervey, the romantic duo of the picture, sing two duets. Miss Niesen renders two songs, while the Diamond Brothers, the Dorene Sisters and the Mills Brothers present the other numbers. "He's My Guy" was directed by Edward F. Cline.

TORONTO, May 7 (CP).—Thursday scrapbook: Walt Riddell, of The Saskatoon Star-Phoenix, says Max Bentley, the Delisle, Sask., gift to Chicago hockey, has received his army call-up . . . Montreal Royals' new third baseman, Leighton (Bud) Kimball, was born at Armond, N.B., twenty-four years ago, but moved to Lowell, Mass., as a youngster . . . Fresco Thompson, Royals manager, is high on Kimball's baseball ability . . . Best of all from Royals' standpoint, Kimball isn't liable for army duty because he is color blind and has chronic sinus trouble . . . Thirty years ago, when the city of Kitchener, Ont., was known as Berlin, the Berlin Rangers won soccer fame in Canada and toured the British Isles. Now the Kitchener baseball club has resurrected that famous name and its team this year will be known as Rangers.

BLESSED DELAY

Ken (Halifax Herald) Chisholm expresses relief that the National Hockey League has decided to postpone choice of a locale for a hockey hall of fame. He writes: "Halifax, to be truthful, won't be sorry at this decision. Members of the local committee have been searching for weeks through old records and, while a claim equally as strong, maybe stronger, than Kingston's could be advanced now, the local committee has reason to believe there is evidence which will clinch the matter but a considerable amount of further research is necessary."

Jersey Campbell, versatile snapback with Regina Roughriders in East-West football finals a decade ago, now in an R.C.A.F. corporal stationed in New Brunswick . . . Fred Metcalfe, who coached Regina Rangers to the Allan Cup in 1941 and later coached New York Rovers, is a corporal in the United States Army . . . Howie Meeker, Stratford Kroehlers junior hockey star the past two seasons, has enlisted in the army at London, Ont. . . . One of the greatest women swimmers in Canada's history, Phyllis Dewar, of Moose Jaw, Sask., has joined the Wrens. At the British Empire Games in London, England, in 1934, Phyllis won the 100 and 440-yard free style events and was a member of Canada's two winning relay teams. A dapper little man applied for a separation order to be made out against his wife on the ground of cruelty.

Kinsmen Hold Busy Session

Speaking for the National Committee for Mental Hygiene, Dr. S. R. Laycock, professor of psychology at the University of Saskatchewan, addressed a capacity meeting of the Kinsmen Club at the Empress Hotel Thursday night.

"Your problems are people," he said, explaining that psychology "is just a study of human behavior." He stressed the difference between the mentally defective and those who are mentally ill but capable of responding to correct treatment.

Discussing the parental influence, the speaker cited specific cases of improper or inadequate teaching in the home. He condemned the practice of instilling fear in the minds of children, also the excessive "coddling" of children which, he said, destroyed their spirit of self-reliance. Ted Sanders extended the Kinsmen's thanks to Dr. Laycock for his remarks.

Hugh Hodgins, assistant forester for the Provincial Government, led the club's customary brief discussion of postwar rehabilitation. "Between thirty-five and forty cents of every dollar earned in this province comes from the forest industries," Mr. Hodgins said.

WOULD ESTABLISH WOOD LOTS

Among the suggestions offered, he proposed that serious consideration be given the establishment of farmers' wood lots, that farmers be educated as to the types of trees which should be allowed to grow into "big timber," and smaller trees which could be utilized in meeting the demand for poles, ties and fence poles, and that special attention be given "community forests," as, for example, those which would serve to protect municipal watersheds.

Supporting Mr. Hodgins, Ed Savannah mentioned numerous products which science now obtains from trees, notably gun cotton, Cellophane, silk stockings, vanilla, dyes, sugar, plastics and chemical pulp.

Howard Tyrrell spoke of the postwar employment problem as it might appear when wartime mass production methods are applied to peacetime industries. Conceivably, he thought, it would be possible for machines to equal in 1946 the production volume of 1940 and to do it with 20,000,000 fewer employees than are now engaged in present-day production of all kinds.

Ted Sanders announced that the local club had sent to the Kinsmen's Milk for Britain Fund a cheque for $1,000, this being in addition to the $500 which was announced two weeks ago.

Plans were reported to be progressing favorably in connection with the Arion Club's fiftieth anniversary, which is to be commemorated by a concert on May 17 under Kinsmen auspices.

The club's Mart Kenny dance arrangements were reported nearing completion and a further announcement will be made at the club's next meeting two weeks hence.

How It Started----

By JEAN NEWTON

MAY

Hail bounteous May, that doth inspire
Mirth, and youth and warm desire!
Woods and groves are of thy dressing,
Hill and dale doth boast thy blessing.
Thus we salute thee with our early song,
And welcome thee, and wish thee long.

—Milton.

No more seductive designation is there than that which adorns the fifth month of our calendar—May.

May memorializes the Greek goddess Maia, daughter of Atlas, and mother, by Zeus, of that winged scamp Hermes, whose birth coincided with the seasonal ecstacy of Nature.

The Romans, who took over the Greek pantheon and its mythology, saw in the story of Maia the irresistable impact of beauty, love and life and commemorated the event by instituting the Festival of Maius May, which came down to us as the name for that period of the year.

It was a felicitous choice of nomenclature, one which has stayed put for at least a couple of thousand years.

May is a growing month; it sees Mother Earth covered with verdure, balmy breezes caressing away the lines of Winter's wear and tear; flowers coloring the countryside; light spirits, heavy crops and high ambitions a-borning.

The old Dutch name for May was Bloumaang Blossoming Month; the Saxons called it Trimilchi Three Milks, because during this month they could milk their cows three times a day; in France it was for a long time known as Floreal Times of Flowers, and he, so ran old Gallic tradition, has a very hard heart, who does not love in May.

There were killjoys who thought that all this gushing about May was in the best of sentiments but the worst of ignorance, of sniffles and other similar disabilities imminent in May—James Russell Lowell, of all people, averring that May was a pious fraud of the almanac; he got that way, though, through steeping himself in old English proverbs.

One of these ran: "If you would the doctors pay, leave your flannels off in May." And another: "Change not a clout till May be out."

But why think of that?

(Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

The Wall Street loser sighed: "I am
Exceedingly grieved to note,
That where at first I was a lamb
I've grown to be a goat!"

MEET LABOR PROBLEM

PENTICTON, May 7 (CP).—Praise for the manner in which Penticton Municipal Council and fruit growers have united to meet the labor problem here has been given by William McGillivray, provincial director of the emergency farm labor service. The plan, drawn up some weeks ago, calls for establishment of a labor office with a paid manager. Growers are being circularized as to their labor needs, while a questionnaire has been distributed to town residents asking for volunteers for orchard work. Cost of administering this plan has been estimated at $1,000.

TO CARRY MESSAGE

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP).—Former Ambassador Joseph E. Davies will carry a message from President Roosevelt to Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin as his new mission to Moscow, reliable sources said here. Announcement that Davies will make a brief trip to Moscow is expected from the White House tomorrow.

Appoint Delegates

The Saanich Board of Trade held a meeting at the Brentwood Women's Institute Hall on Monday evening, with W. O. Wallace in the chair.

Delegates were appointed to attend the annual convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island at Nanaimo on June 16.

G. J. E. Alexander, assistant commissioner of fisheries, showed moving pictures of British Columbia's fishing industry, entitled "From the Sea to the Can." An audience of children filled the hall, including the Indian children from the West Road Reserve, who were in charge of Father Lauzon.

FIRE REPORT GIVEN

PRINCE RUPERT, May 7 (CP).—Prince Rupert fire department has responded to fifty alarms so far this year compared with thirty-one in the first four months of 1942. Calls for April number eight, compared with five in April, 1942.

Duties Increase

VANCOUVER, May 7 (CP).—Annual duties of the Provincial Police have increased 800 per cent since 1924, while personnel has increased only 78 per cent, Commissioner T. W. S. Parsons reported to a conference of police inspectors here.

He said extraneous duties on behalf of the Federal Government, performed without pay, had created some of the most arduous increases in work since the war began. The motor vehicle branch had tested several thousand army drivers and last year handled distribution of 237,238 gasoline ration books.

In addition the force was associating with the aircraft detection corps, aircraft spotting system and other civilian defence duties.

Commissioner Parsons said the force now policies forty-two organized cities and municipalities.

OBJECTORS HIRE OUT

CHILLIWACK, May 7 (CP).—Conscientious objectors released from forestry camps for work on dairy farms may sign a contract for as long as a year and if not satisfactory will return to camps, E. H. Barton, Upper Fraser Valley delegate of the advisory committee of the British Columbia Emergency Farm Labor Service, told members of the Board of Trade at a meeting.

NELSON'S TAX RATE

NELSON, May 7 (CP).—Nelson's tax rate for 1943 has been set at 28.5 mills. Net revenue for the year has been estimated at $493,774, of which taxes comprise $120,000.

MEN like this . . . YOUR son, perhaps . . . your nephew, brother, husband, sweetheart, neighbor . . . await the word: "ATTACK!"

Canada's army, trained and eager, is poised for the knockout blow.

No time to think of what we're doing back home! Mind and nerve and sinew keyed to the one great purpose . . . if need be, the supreme sacrifice.

In every heart a glow of love for dear ones far away . . . a flash of tender memories . . . a thrill of pride.

Yet perhaps a lurking question: "Will those at home back us to the limit? Will DOLLARS be in this fight too . . . in full measure? Can we count on everything we must have to win?"

How shall we answer them?

This is offensive year. One billion, one hundred million dollars are needed.

Let's put our savings unreservedly into Victory Bonds. Let's pledge our future earnings to buy MORE on the instalment plan. Let's back our boys up . . . to the last fighting dollar!

Your Health and Your Weight - - -

Jas. W. Barton, M.D.

THE BASIS OR PLAN OF THE REDUCING DIET

A physician who has had excellent results in weight reducing always makes a thorough physical examination. Condition of the heart, the condition of the muscle under the fat, the condition of the blood vessels, the blood pressure and kidneys being known, he then searches for evidence, however slight, of any gland defect—thyroid, pituitary, adrenal, and sex.

After all this has been noted, he carefully points out to the patient exactly what he has learned, how long it will likely take to get results, why he is not using gland extracts at first even if there appears evidence of gland defect, slight or severe. He points out further that as the fat did not accumulate in a few weeks or even in a few months, it will come off slowly not by any eighteen-day or similar diet. He points out that the diet given will keep the patient alive although there may be periods of weakness and discouragement.

He next carefully points how instead of getting lighter or even maintaining a certain amount of overweight, the general tendency in overweight individuals is to add weight. He then outlines the dangers of overweight—high blood pressure, heart stroke, brain stroke, and diabetes, besides the clumsiness and inability to indulge in the athletic and social activities which make life enjoyable.

He next points out that, because the individual carries excess fat, his body surface is greater than one of average weight, and as the body needs food in proportion to its size, so his body demands the needed amount of food and supplies the appetite which causes him to eat this extra amount. If, however, the overweight will gradually reduce his size and have less body surface, the body will be satisfied with less food and the appetite will not be so keen for food.

From this point, the physician goes on to the next which is that the body must have food to carry on its work and is going to get that food somewhere. If not enough food is eaten to supply the energy needed, then it will get it from some other source and that other source is the fat stored in various parts of the body—under the skin, in between the abdominal organs or from other fat depots situated in various parts of the body. It is at this point he explains the basis or underlying reasons for the use of the reducing diet for overweight.

By not allowing the overweight to eat the amount of food his body needs, and increasing this need for food by increasing the amount of exercise or work, the body "must" get its food or fuel from the fat depots, and there is thus much fat removed and weight lost.

As the patient now realizes that his own fat is supplying the energy needed by his body, he is willing to cut down on his food intake. He knows his body is getting enough energy from this fat and that it is quite safe for him to do without about half the food he has been eating. Thus, as the average overweight individual needs about 2,500 calories a day, most physicians now advise the 1,200 calorie diet. Should vigorous exercise be taken, a daily diet of 1,500 calories is advisable. However, because the 1,200 calorie diet is below the actual needs of the body and foods other than fat to supply energy are needed by the body tissues, this 1,200 calorie diet is made up of all the various food stuffs so that none of the tissues on, or any part of their structures, will lack the needed food elements (particulary minerals and vitamins) to maintain their strength.

In general, the 1,200 calorie diet is made up of (a) a large amount of vegetables containing a small percentage of carbohydrate (starch); lettuce, cucumbers, asparagus, celery, beet greens, spinach; (b) a large amount of animal protein, (meat, eggs, fish) which repair worn cells, create much heat and leave a "satisfied" feeling after eating; (c) plenty of minerals and vitamins (fruits and green vegetables); (d) small, but the necessary amount of foods rich in starch to supply energy—bread, potatoes, beans and macaroni.

There was no doubt about it—the theatrical magnate was angry.

"Don't ever mention the name of that low-down, double-crossing twister of a leading lady!" he said.

"I had no idea she was that sort," replied his friend.

"Why, that girl's so mean, she not only pulls the wool over your eyes, but it's ninety per cent cotton!"
